Well, since he took a vac ban and stopped replying me on Discord, I have no choice but to open a dispute. Sucks to see him doing this over $40

Recently Adobe upgrades took a hit as most of them were disabled. I think Upgrader's service also took that hit.

I had got the Adobe upgrade from someone who was selling it for $15 a pop. I checked and his is working fine actually but don't know why he has stopped selling now.

Hope you get your money back.

I really don't care about $40 honestly, I know I won't get it back

I'm just pissed at him for not replying to the messages..

I understand. It seems he is taking a ban to work on the patched services. That would be my guess.

But still he should clearly state that to all customers so that everyone is on same page.

Vacation ban lifted. He either deals with these Disputes within 48 hours or he will be closed.

Taking a ban to fix this isn't the way it works.. same with him not replying to customers on discord. Its looking bad IMHO

Wonder when Admin is stepping in?

Nice hope to see this resolved for the affected buyers! Or at least a statement about what he's going to do.

Scammer account closed.

Expected this from him. Didn't seem like he was new here.

I mean not really, he WAS legit and this whole closure of his account was dumb from his side. From what I understood, his Adobe CC method stopped working and he decided to quit whole business? That's just dumb.

I doubt he purposely exit scammed cause why bother setting the whole operation just to exit scam for few hundred bucks. He upgraded my YouTube and it still works perfectly so I'm guessing it's only Adobe.

I even made him several designs he paid for and he was always legit

I hope it doesn't effect your workflow drastically.

Surprised it played out this way, Upgrader knew what was happening and some of us even offered a loan to consolidate the funds/disputes if he was short. That was a good account and decent reputation for minimal resolution.

Eh, I guess it's good I never used Adobe cloud, probably because of the fact you have to pay for it. I could've lost a lot of files if I decided to go down that route.

Just wondering, did he ever answer to your proposals about the loan?
