jessepinkman420 - November 14, 2022, 5:53 am

Where do the pedophiles creep on the internet? Pedophiles who have something to lose, like a family. Do they use any corners/tactics to get into contact with underaged girls? I'd assume Grindr, anything else?

Can't really say for sure but the internet do be filled with questionable people.

BiNBo - November 14, 2022, 5:55 am

Not gonna lie, without any context this is a little sus. I can likely gather where you're going with this, however, context would make this thread a whole lot less weird.....

Nonetheless, good luck hunting, I guess?

Chatrooms are dead, I have no idea where to find pedophiles online.

It sounds like you're trying to either blackmail them or use information posted to gain sources for personal gain.

Either way, weird thread.

depends on where you're from , in my area they're usually lurking in facebook.

my wife's underage niece gets a lot of message from them, one of them even offered money for sex one time the're about to set-up an entrapment operation with the law officers but the victim's mother backed out.

she's worried if something might happen to her daughter during the operation.

im honestly mad but i can't do anything with it . also the police officers can't force the victim to cooperate without parents consent .

Do you know where in Facebook? If they offer to physically meetup they must be local? How does one find these people given they are an underage victim iiFinance - November 14, 2022, 8:25 am

Its because the internet is the easiest place to prey on children with little to no consequences due to anonymity. But then again it really depends on the case.

I'd probably assume they creep on the darknet or deep web?

This seems like the most likely place you would find them to be perfectly honest.

Look into Studio 58 and other places.
Usually people who entrap pedophiles use Omegle and Discord. Regardless, no one here is going to help you use extortion against people.

I support it. Do your thing bud. They're likely not going to be on the "regular internet"? You need to find whatever encrypted safe havens they flock to, anything else and they're likely already, hopefully in prison.

You probably will have to be very creative in order to get them to trust you. You really shouldn't run in bad circles though with bad people. It won't be healthy for you to even try to associate in any way with them at all.

The Federal agents who do this kind of work literally get PTSD from it.

There defo on the Deep Web you need a TOR browser or whatever to get there.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Peter_Scully

But you should realise that extortion is a federal crime in the USA it's a serious crime and also if child porn ends up on your PC somehow.....that could be found if you devices were seized even if it did not get there because you had interest but because you were trying to "trick" pedos somehow into something. I guess any time spent distracting them might be something though. If you aren't one of them as some here claim. lol

I used to hunt those fucks, had to pause because it consumed too much of my time.

I am vary of your intentions, you said chat rooms are dead. Earlier this year, "working" with a partner, we got about 50 from chat room to discord in half an hour.

Chat rooms are still one of the best ways to find them. They are also a lot less cautious there. If you are planning to do this for profit.

Will not mention my methods here because it can be used in reverse, but they are all ethical, legal and can be more targeted to reveal high profile individuals, who are also usually more dangerous. Would be more than happy to share with credible forum members.

Bro, I fucking want to burn them alive.

My little sister had Instagram. I didn't like it, but I thought, let her be, since her friends also has it and I don't want her to be left out. She doesn't post weird things. But bro, she got messages from the weirdest humans on earth. I wanted to fuck them up, but, they are from other countries. And, unfortunately, EU has too many laws that protect such people, so even if they were somewhat locally, I couldn't do anything unless I'm ready to go to jail.

At least my little sister and her friends had learned from this experience.

And she has 3 big brothers, we are all around 30. If someone ever tries to do something bad to her, it will be the last thing they'll ever do while be alive.

Remember that Netflix show? The one aimed at closet pedos where children were dancing or some shit?

Was hanging around this guy a few months back when I saw a compilation of all the scenes where the children in that show were in vulnerable positions on his PC.. First guy I've actually cut out of my life.

Anyway, back on topic, discord is probably the most common place. Any community with self NSFW channels and children will have children posting there pretending to be adults. The ones I've heard of (they were closed, and the person who reported it made a video about them) were TF2, Furrries, LGBT+, and some 4chan femboy/trans communities (One even was black mailing them into posting more and taking "cute pills")

Basically any place without/lacking moderation will have them. I remember when I first downloaded tiktok, before I even made an account, the third video I saw was a dog eating some adult girls ass, several videos later saw some kid getting molested. Was the last time I used Tiktok lol
