Thread: what search engine are you using?

Personally, I use Google, I see nothing wrong with it. I asked some guy what search engine does he use and he said "I use self hosted searchx". That's an overkill imo, guess some people are really concerned for their privacy

I stick with Google. It has treated me right for many years. I don't see a reason to switch.

I use google, their indexing is just superior compared to all other search engines.

I use DuckDuckGo for most things, though awhile back I did go through the whole process of setting up my own self hosted search engine for fun. Definitely a neat little project for the curious mind.

Yeah, self hosting your own search engine would be pretty fun but using it wouldn't be, Google just has best indexing imo

I agree with this.

Google is so much better for Cyrillic searches than Yandex. I absolutely don't care if I raise red flags with curiosity.

I've always lived by google. Don't know why, but I will always hold Google to be responsible for my searches.

therealmeatstick - November 14, 2022, 1:31 pm

I use google or duckduckgo

InHackerForum - November 14, 2022, 2:53 pm

Google is the best tbh, used bing before to search the same thing and google had the exact info i was looking for and as for bing, a whole different info

DashPHP - November 14, 2022, 4:24 pm

I use Google personally. I've tried duckduckgo and bing, but it's just not the same.

hussain.spams - November 14, 2022, 10:36 pm

Google is the best based on the indexing.

FancyOG - November 15, 2022, 1:05 am

My browser standard tab is set to Duckduckgo but I use google more.

Cryptochadpupper - November 15, 2022, 1:45 am

I should probably not use Google but it is really hard to stop when you use their email services

mickeh - November 15, 2022, 2:10 am

DeepWeb - November 15, 2022, 2:19 pm
