Thread: What kind of Tea do you like?

????? - November 25, 2022, 1:29 pm

Title asks the general question. Please Reply below as I'm trying to find some Tea I may like.

I've tried Green Tea(Kinda a fan, but not a daily drinker), Unsweet ?, southern sweet tea(Amazing but I live in the north, sweet tea here sucks.)

Arnold Palmer is fire too & one of my go to's on a tea binge. I've never actually made tea with a tea bag though, not even with any herbs either.

What tastes the best, how can I make it taste the best?

Does anyone here have any special Tea remedies?

ZuGgY - November 25, 2022, 1:31 pm

Generally, green tea. Always unsweetened. Especially nice towards the end of the day.

Why do you like unsweetened? It's always too watery for me !

Royal ! - November 25, 2022, 1:41 pm

Green tea with some lemon poured in, oh yeah.

Vibe - November 25, 2022, 1:54 pm

If you like southern tea the best make it lol, you don't have to be in the south to make good sweet tea

N - November 25, 2022, 3:52 pm

Tea? I only fuck with Nespresso.

Zexo - November 25, 2022, 4:04 pm

Green or black tea mostly. But I like cold tea.

Deformed - November 25, 2022, 4:06 pm

English black tea isn't bad! Just tried it recently. I'm from the US South where it's sweet tea or die.

I highly recommend green tea with the addition of honey, lemon and lime (leaves for brewing Kiwi Garden Coffee Roasters, but they can also be ordinary leaves bought in a teahouse or supermarket). This tea is my salvation during a cold.

Lyrlei - November 25, 2022, 4:18 pm

I like plain green tea and uhh occasionally black tea.

????? - November 25, 2022, 4:26 pm

Didn't actually expect the Tea thread to gain traction Imfao. But bet, I guess we are tea drinkers here.

I'm glad that I inspired you, I think you will like this recipe for sure. And a little tip, you can use any kind of honey for this recipe, but I recommend you the most linden honey. It supports the body very well during respiratory tract infections, cough, and additionally relieves stress and helps to fall asleep?

Yeah you can buy "southern sweet" tea bags from Lipton too but I just use regular sweet tea bags and hella sugar.

In the summer you can make sweet sun tea it's pretty good just leave pitcher out in sun instead of boiling water

I just use a mason jar you can duck tape the sides sides of the lid if you really want.

Yeah someone on here maybe [mention=2774521] or Nachfolger told me about the milk in tea thought it would be weird but I like it

Prince™ - November 25, 2022, 7:07 pm
Try authentic ginger tea, it's so good. My personal favorite as well.

StuffSneak - November 25, 2022, 9:00 pm
I don't know if it has any special name.. its regular masala Tea / Chai in India. Maybe you might know it by Darjeeling but that's really a speciality in India.

Nate - November 25, 2022, 10:57 pm
Black tea, green tea, or jasmine tea

pms - November 26, 2022, 1:49 am
I dont know what type of tea earl grey is but thats the one

Juoku - November 26, 2022, 2:18 am
You got lemongrass, spearmint, those are amazing, really nice on the stomach.

Chai Masala is also great if you like stronger flavors, Earl Grey is also a great choice.

StuffSneak - November 26, 2022, 2:36 am Personally I like Masala Chai with hint of Ginger & Lemongrass. Boil it hard for 5 minutes and done.

Immortal - November 26, 2022, 6:58 am

I don't buy bagged tea, I buy different herbs that I mix into tea. 1. More bang for your buck. 2. You know exactly whats in it. 3. You can customize the flavor profile when you make different blends.

Multiple people have mentioned Earl Grey..

Earl Grey tea is a tea blend which has been flavoured with oil of bergamot.

Earl Grey tea contains antioxidants that support heart health and prevent serious cardiovascular disease such as heart attacks and high blood pressure.

Might be good for me since I have high blood pressure almost constantly. Thanks for the input!

I wasn't aware of all the health implementations. I actually liked the flavor and that was it. But if it has healthy components, all the better.

Earl Gray (Grey? I never know which is right :-\ .....)

Basically any great black tea. Coffee was making my cortisol levels go off the charts which was giving me anxiety, which affected serotonin and dopamine levels. I did a little research and black tea helped level out cortisol levels and boosts both serotonin and dopamine. So I went cold turkey, which was hard since I've been drinking coffee for half a century.

Now I am super mellow and wake up relatively calm every morning.

.... Oh, also, THC gummies are legal where I am, so that helps with dopamine... lol
