Dementia medication

Spoiler (Click to View) I stare death in it's eyes on a daily basis,
See death hiding in plain sight covered in grey hair and dementia medication,
Quietly death sits there - day in and out,
Waving new hello's every morning to it's workers,
With a minor made up grin on it's face,
All it takes to forget who the worker is meeting that morning,

One morning for the worker,
Eternal for death,
One hello for the worker,
A thousand hellos for death,

One day,
Forever,
Until one day,

By no means would i consider myself a good writer but i try my best and maybe 1/100 will be decent.

I will be posting almost daily poems as a challange, atleast very often.
Feedback and critique will always be appreciated!

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

A little arrangement in words and making it bit longer can make it more better

But as general good ??
