Not to be rude or something, but you're basically asking us to advertise you for free while you MAY give us a month on your crypter?

HEISENPUG - December 16, 2022, 2:38 am i will take number 32 please, Thank you

Greetings xSyCo, thank you so much for your post! I fully understand what you mean but I am not asking anyone to do that. I decided to make a Member Contest because of the Christmas Festival Time and if you want to join the Contest you have to choose a number and put the signature to your signature space and you have the chance to win a 1 Month Private License of Trillium Security File Protector. To join the Contest is your fully free decision I don't say you must join the Contest or that you must put the signature to your Signature Space. It's your free decision, if you want to accept that to join the Contest and if you don't want to do that then it's of course also no problem. ?

Greetings HEISENPUG, thank you so much for joining the Contest but if you prefer to join the Contest then please put the Signature Code to your Signature Space. If you have done that then I will directly add you to the specific number which you have choosed.

Update:

Thank you so much HEISENPUG for adding the signature to your Signature Space I just have added your HF Username to your choosen number! Good Luck! ?
