[Repost for a cool server I'm staff of]

Not your average FiveM server with 13 year olds running around..
This server has been in closed development for the past 6 months with over 30 beta testers.

90% of FiveM servers that have been released within the past 2 years have one sole intent which you may already know... The expectations for 1337 City exceed this feeble motive and our main goal is to provide a quality RP experience for all players whether you've been in the scene for years or are just getting into it. Loads of ideas are to be implemented further down the line to separate our community from others ranging from aiding upcoming streamers/content makers to advancing players skill sets.

As you can see we're currently very early in the development phase for 1337 City, which means you're basically an OG! We have a plethora of awesome plans for this server and are very determined to build a quality base for users to enjoy, whether you're looking for a server to start fresh and RP on, or even a new city to stream to your audience.

We look forward to creating one of the best Serious RP servers alongside our amazing community. Most of you may notice that as of right now, our discord is not very active, and that is due to the fact that we have not launched any marketing campaigns. Once we are closer to the official launch of 1337 City, we will launch an official marketing campaign to bring in heavy traffic for a highly anticipated launch.

The server has been in development for the past 5 months and is almost ready for the official public phase, don't miss out!

Looks cool and best of luck with developing and finding an active player base. I don't play much GTA anymore, I used to be a technology director for Next Generation Gaming back when they were hosting SAMP servers.

theDuke - December 16, 2022, 10:03 pm

Always wanted to try out a GTA RP server, they all seem like a lot of time is needed to put into em lol

SIM 420 - December 17, 2022, 3:21 am

Interesting as I've been involved for a lengthy amount of time in GTA RP, following to see how this server plays out for sure.

For sure come check us out man! Been in the works for the past 6 months this is my first time in this scene as well, little late to be honest but the scene is definitely still poppin!

Loads of servers nowadays are going hella P2W with all these asset donations which are basically against FiveM ToS ? Lil Durk's server got hit recently for a situation similar with Rockstar involved I feel like loads of more to come (Dec 16, 2022 11:04 PM)-Scrub Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) That was my thoughts also, I just don't have a lot of time to dedicate like that.

For sure check us out, it's definitely fun to play with some friends got a few hooked on it during the beta Imfao.

Official launch dates released.

Mr. Corleone - December 20, 2022, 7:39 am

Looks really cool! I was wondering though, are you guys gonna draw in players from other communities/servers?

I'd like to play this if the playerbase is at least enough to be entertaining.

Depends actually, some people are only here a few times a week but providing good roleplay so they make it worth it, as someone who's been in RP for years I can easily say you can have fun even as a busy person if you're in the right place!

Currently, on week days there are around 10-20 active and 30+ on the weekends. Sort of bummed out cause I was expecting loads of more & the amounts of work I've put into this the past 6 months have been crazy haha but so far it's been a great experience! Looking forward to growing this into a huge community for everyone to enjoy themselves on.

How tight are you guys with the rules? Played FiveM once and got banned within 30 minutes on most servers. Apparently doing whatever you want (While still being realistic) isn't allowed on most servers as far as I could tell. I miss the RP days of Garry's Mod.

Very eased out on them for sure LOL, hella trihard sweat admins on FiveM most definitely

Can see where they get powerhungry however nothing new to us, been in the RSPS scene dealing with that toxic shitshow for a decade
