Thread: What Happened To Armada?

Demoralise - December 16, 2022, 11:56 pm

I haven't been on HF in a long time - I've been separating myself from this site. I just noticed that Armada's account is closed. What happened?

LeetSpeed - December 17, 2022, 12:09 am

Well now... who is Armada?

Nostre - December 17, 2022, 12:11 am

This right here: he's still active in the brotherhood discord.

He's doing well and got his shit back together.

Proud of him ?

Last I heard, he was arrested and dealing with legal matters in relation to his products sold on here.

Not sure what ever happened from there.

This is really sad news. I had the chance to chat with him and he was a great character and super smart as well. We just don't know the kind of battles people are fighting behind the screens. May he rest in peace.

Omniscient - December 23, 2023, 8:00 am

I just made a tweet about this. Riggs sent me a heads up. This is very sad. He was a fairly toxic person on the site ultimately leading to his closure. He made many attempts to return both pleas and with evasions. I don't know if he'd still be with us had I been more forgiving, that's a weight I'll have to carry. I'm sad to learn he left 3 children behind. I can relate to having wondering loving children.

They say Xmas time is often a time of suicide.

Canada has been crazy lately too, their inflation is insane, unsure if he was having issues there which contributed to his mental state.

Bye John, I'll pray for you. I always had the feeling if I met you'd we'd get along. Sorry for the pain you must have felt to end your life. I hope you're at peace now and in a better place.

I've been thinking back on this comment in particular since I've read it an hour or so ago.

No, don't do that to yourself. I try not to let too much of my personal life leak onto HF anymore, but I've struggled with mental health issues for over a decade now. It's been a bit better these past few years, but I've had some pretty low points including grippy-sock hospital time, if you know what I mean.

All I can say is that these battles are very personal. Armada was still active in Discord communities. He still was in contact with many HF members, I truly don't believe him not being on the site contributed to his death and it's not fair to put any of that on yourself.

I don't know what Armada was going through personally, but it was ultimately his own decision to do what he did and none of that is on anyone else.

That being said, it's still somber news. I sincerely hope his loved ones are doing alright. If anyone wants someone to talk to who's been in a similar headspace, please reach out to me.

I'd also like to apologize for my earlier post dismissing the possibility of this as last I knew, he was still active in the off-site community and I did not take the time to thoroughly review the user making the initial claim — thinking it to be a newer troll account as we've seen so many times before.

Rest easy.

Sirius - December 23, 2023, 11:39 am

My condolences to anyone who knew him. It's a very sad incident. Prayers to his children and family.

Cooligan - December 23, 2023, 11:47 am

Like I said in convo; whether you liked him or not, this is absolutely tragic and very sad news to hear. :(

My prayers go out to his friends and family.

This is unbelievable. I never would of expected such devastating news.

I spent hours and hours talking to him years and years ago while he used to show me his knife collection.

In the old days me, blunt, jasper & armada used to do video calls on skype.

Sad to hear of this

I'm possessed by the one and only god.

Spoiler (Click to View)

The possession story....

Michael Gira wrote an album called Leaving Meaning about this light. I was going to kill myself in this abandoned structure and leave my body to rot dead inside (killing myself inside was the story for Black Paint by the band Death Grips. I was gonna write "Death Classic" "Death" inside with paint). It had to do with modern hip hop clout.

Their new album, "The Beggar" is about the possession itself. I am being tormented in pain every day by gods mighty powers.

One day, I will receive paradise bliss in the body, the song, Paradise Is Mine he is speaking to me about my future.

The Beggar Lover is about my future boyfriend.

Long story.

Edit: I came back to HF and I'm much less suicidal. Zero is cool (bless him) and I post in pink for fun everyday.

I didn't know this member but I will say a prayer for his soul.

Rip Armada, you will be missed mate.

SkullTraill - December 23, 2023, 4:30 pm

Never spoke to the dude, but may he RIP, fellow HF member.

Always sad to hear.

A disproportionate number of friends/acquaintances from HF have taken their own lives compared to other online friends. Nothing wrong with HF or anything, just that I think a lot of people who struggle find solace and camaraderie here in this community, but sometimes it just isn't enough.

Just another reminder to us all that we never know what demons another person is battling.

Pour a drink for our lost homie and toast to our wonderful community of hooligans.

May we live another day.

oRequiem - December 23, 2023, 8:19 pm

Hopefully he's resting easy now. Was a bit in denial at first since I've seen fake death posts, but checked hours later and it turns out to be true. Hope his family is doing okay. Fuck the devil man.

Autonomous - December 23, 2023, 8:26 pm

Rest in Peace Armada... :(

As a person who found HF when I was at my lowest point, the community here gave me a sense of peace, and home. It allowed me to express myself in a way that I couldn't at home, and gave me the peace I could not find in my home life.

Without the friendships I found here, I wouldn't be here today.

Pentatonix - December 23, 2023, 8:54 pm

The man has definitely been through it lately. He was just in The Brotherhood discord a few weeks back. He had just gotten out of jail and was figuring some shit out. Despite his struggles, Armada was a good dude.

Rest in peace, brother.

SIM-3327040 - December 23, 2023, 10:06 pm

Sorry for being a bearing of bad news. And the lack of info on the first post.

I should have included his obituary.

I joined this forum because of him. And knew the struggles he faced here with a few folks and up to the time he left.

He loved this forum and the people, that never changed even in the time off the forums.

I felt it only right to share this news here. I knew he had a family here that should know.

Eran - December 24, 2023, 1:54 am

This is devastating news. No matter the circumstances, his family does not deserve this. We need to start treating mental health more seriously.

Like Omni said, suicides are at an all time high during holidays, I got the blues as well this year. Go talk to someone, anyone if you need to, please!

I haven't talked to him directly but we had our fair share of laughs while flipping in convo.. :(

RIP! ???

Nostre - December 26, 2023, 5:19 am

My prayers and thoughts to the family. I was lucky enough to get to know him earlier this year. I'm going to miss our conversations and the memes, Armada. In my personal experience with him, he was a very knowledgeable person who had goals. I didn't know of him from his original HF registration, but to me, he was a cool guy. This is sad man.
