Thread: Easy Ebay--> Make Bank | Whitehat 100% | You Should Have Thought Of This Method

SIM-587985 - December 19, 2022, 9:15 am

Easy ebay

1 simple eBay method that will BLOW YOUR MIND.

Price: $24.99

Trades Accepted

So I usually put some sales jargon in this portion of my post, but I don't think that is super helpful whenever you are trying to buy a method to make money. Instead, let me tell you that this was my first successful business venture while I was doing it.

This is completely white hat, which means taxes are a thing. I literally got audited the year I ran this because I didn't know how to file taxes and all that. (Which turned out to be majorly bad because I didn't really "save" money at the time.)

Why should you buy my method? No startup cost apart from the ebay fees until you sell an item (including inventory)

Easy money if done correctly.

No inventory but you still sell physical products (New)

I use a modified version of this using Amazon FBA for my full time income. (Lots of startup costs for FBA)

Some things to be aware of if you are thinking of buying my method:

This is a really easy method. If you think hard enough for long enough I bet you will think of something pretty close.

This is only one page.

If you do not live in the USA, contact me ahead of time so I can make sure it works in your area.

This is not PLR or Dropshipping, though it is very similar to Dropshipping.

I don't do refunds because this is a 1 page method and you can't unread.

I stopped doing this method because PayPal is a fucking joke and I don't want them to ever get another dollar from me. That being said, it makes proof pics difficult to provide.

Method is one page. Right to the point. I have personally seen this method before and actually know some people who do this for good complimentary side income. This does work! You need to put in time like any other method, but it works. This can be a nice side income, it can potentially even be a full time income if you have the time & desire. It will require some work, but the good thing is that once you find what works, its just auto for the most part. Minimal work after that. I would say there is some cash you will need upfront, but its minimal and once things get going you will not need any money out of pocket. The OP is very specific on what you need and you will see this right at the very beginning when you start reading the method.

In conclusion I recommend this method if you are someone who is looking for an income source. It is whitehat and it will work long term. I personally have not done it, but like I said above, I know people who do this and make money. I believe this can work in any country that has access to a similar source that we have here in the US, but this will need to be confirmed by others & OP. If you are in the US, this will work 100%.

It works, but you get from this method what you put into it. Put in minimal work and you'll get minimal reward, pretty self explanatory.

I knew about this concept, but not quite the details that were explained in this method.

(Dec 21, 2022 06:39 PM)anatho Wrote: CITE Hey there,

I have a few questions:

1. Does this work outside of USA, e.g. in Europe?
 2. Does it only work on eBay?
 3. Is this about digital items? (because you said no inventory)
 4. Yes of course I can't unread lol But what in case the method is not working for me?
- I have a few answers, but I am still glad you went first.

1. Europe is probably one of the higher percentage chances of it working.

Basically you need a discount local store. In the guide I used the store "dollar tree" because it is really easy, however I have applied this to multiple stores including walmart, (I did VERY well with walmart in their topical creams) dollar general (nothing sold from here cause prices were to high.)

2. Good question, I think it could be applied to other things like FB marketplace and craigslist, however it would take some careful product selection honestly. I did use Rakuten too but they auto import ebay listings.

If you were gonna run this and try to expand, shoppify or a website with open cart.

3. The only platforms I have ever sold digital goods on are HF and Fiverr. So no, it is not. The no inventory is pretty much the whole method

4. Then you are only out a few bucks, I stated in the thread you may not have as much luck in other countries.

The reason for this is sometimes it takes some time to get started with sales. It honestly took me like a month to make anything with this cause of my very low number of reviews.

Hello!

Are you sure what your friends are doing isn't good old fashioned "retail arbitrage"?

If not, I am impressed since there is no documentation up to this point anywhere about the method.

Thanks for your review, glad you found it helpful.

1. It doesn't cap off like that, I didn't make shit my first month, but second month I made 2k and it just kinda kept going.

2. Nope. I consider this to be the product research and I would take what sold well from this method, and create listings on Amazon and send them to be fba.

3. Local store cause if you do it online it would be considered drop shipping pretty much

Sure. I was only using PayPal as my online payment method at the time, and they limited my account for too many transactions and said I needed to send in a bank statement to prove the account was mine. I took this very personal since I was selling 100% new physical items on eBay and that accounted for 90% of transactions and the whole reason I had a PayPal was to make transactions.

I decided then and there to make the switch to Amazon. I have been selling on Amazon with my partner ever since. I use some of the same stores still, just a different inventory strategy

That's what you use eBay for.

Varrys between people, especially if you're not in us because the store I talk about in the book is not in Australia.

Since the method is basically about getting rid of any inventory costs until you sell an item, there isn't a whole lotta risk involved

I think I did have at least one customer who ended up purchasing from Australia, and they seemed optimistic in their ability to apply this method but they got banned from the forum before I could get any feedback.

That being said, I talk about a store called the dollar tree a lot, and you probably don't have one of those. While I have very successfully done this at multiple stores, you will have to find a replacement discount store or discount section. (In America $1 buy sections are common in stores and were straight my bread and butter for years until I made to much and didn't understand taxes.)

You will need half a brain, but I don't mind helping you apply it once you have found a local shop that sells things cheaper than eBay.
