Thread: SEO Services on HF

Seinfeld - December 19, 2022, 9:18 am

Hey,

I was just browsing through the marketplace and I was seeing some posts offering SEO services to boost visibility of your website in google. Is this something you guys would have done by a member of HF or is it something I should work with a larger company with since my business is legitimate? Also if anyone has gone through any of these services I would love to hear if you had a god experience

Since your business is legitimate, i'd preferably go with a larger company (reputable, do your research). You're after long-term SEO, and want to avoid any links that aren't high quality or articles that aren't well written (or just spun a few times) to avoid being penalized by Google.

Don't get me wrong, these can still get you serious results, but I would consider it much more riskier than using a well known and reputable company.

Thanks for the response. I will definitely need to do some digging, I was in talks with some large companies to do this but I had some difficulty figuring out who I would be in best hands with.

I will follow your advice and dig a bit deeper, looking up reviews etc. Silly question would it not be a good idea to just choose one of the top sites for SEO services as they are the top of google and that is kind of the whole idea?

You can get an idea about how these kinds of services work from the reviews given in that thread. The impression I got is that you can save money by not going to big companies and hiring someone on a monthly basis to do the grunt work for you but it should be done on a regular basis i.e. it's not a one-time thing.

Thank you Artisan for looping me.

Seinfeld I have responded to your private message with some more details. Besides, whatever Artisan has said is accurate. ?
