Thread: [\[Lottery\] Golden Egg Lottery!](#)

Mr Roboto - December 19, 2022, 9:33 am

?? Legendary Golden Egg ?? Will Make You ? FEARED! ??

Enter here.

Cost: 1250 bytes.

jcole - December 19, 2022, 1:33 pm

Very good price for a golden egg and it only ends in three days to! Hope you get a lot of entries brother.

Komodo - December 19, 2022, 1:36 pm

Been a long time since I've seen a golden egg.
Man I want one.

StuffSneak - December 19, 2022, 1:38 pm

Damn I can't believe how I missed the last golden egg lottery.
<https://hackforums.net/lottery.php?action=view&lotid=21356>

Its a shame golden one fetching only 4K Bytes.

Zero - December 19, 2022, 1:46 pm

Damn I remember when I got my golden egg. I think it was the second one. Can't believe I'm the first one to buy a ticket.

How much do they usually go for?
I feel like I never see them.

I remember looking the other day DemonAsylum purchased a golden egg for like 2k bytes or something? I couldn't see who sold it, but was shocked to see it being sold for so cheap. I got lucky with my lottery, and kept it going for a month to try and maximize the potential earnings.

theDuke - December 19, 2022, 1:48 pm

Damn I think that's the lowest I've seen a golden egg on the lottery before. Wish I could enter. Good luck everyone entering this!

Demon buys them all and wipes everyone pretty much.

Price has definitely gone down quite a bit.

That is true. I actually had my eyes on it like 10 hours before the deadline and I told myself to keep that in mind to buy ticket but I forgot. 4 tickets at 1K each. Thats really not how this should work.

Yours was pretty good to be honest. Golden ones should be getting that much.

Yeah I had to actually send Mr Roboto a message and tell him that he needed to enter it into lottery or it would disappear. If I remember correctly, he was L33T when he got it, but I told him he needed to upgrade to UB3R to be able to list eggs on the lottery. I'm glad I told him to enter the egg in because it looked like it was about to die for sure. I got around 60k or so for the egg I listed? Which is more than enough in my opinion since it was my second egg listed. I got two golden eggs in 2022, and thats some luck.

Well you should have told him to list for a little longer time as well it seems. ?

They can go unnoticed really.

Yeah I wasn't really paying much attention to it as has been the case for the last few gold eggs since skull was locking them up with 10k+ bytes each time. To be honest given the solid HUM I already have and then wanting 1-2 slots available to continually hatch new ones in, a gold egg doesn't really do me much good anyway. I saw that last one near the end with only 2 tickets in though and said fuck it, I'll do essentially a coin flip for this egg haha. Felt bad he was only getting so little from it too, but that's just how it is nowadays with those eggs sometimes. He's got a fuck ton of bytes anyway so no way he cares imo. I think a lot of people are still caught up in remembering how big they were a while back when 1. There were way more bytes in circulation and for cheaper since there were a handful exploiting to get and sell an infinite amount of them, and 2. The game partly in due to what I just mentioned was more popular and played than it is now.

I told him in convo that he should probably list it for 1,000 bytes and one month, but I feel like he didn't understand the lottery listing. I tried to help him the best I could, but I was on my phone and at physical therapy doing rehabilitation for my knee so I did the best I could. ? Well damn. I also hope it goes for more. the green and red ones are selling for single digit bytes now and Blue ones are for 2 digit bytes. Lets not stoop the golden one to that level now.

Appreciate you and everything you have done for me brother. To me it is all the same, I don't mind making some bytes along the way. Tried to play that Hackuman game before and just got smashed in the first 10 mins so at least I will gain something from it.

Agreed. I'm optimistic that in these three days we can reach a lot more entries! Let's make it competitive! I do not see how this would not be possible at such a low price.

The exploit was fixed I want to say towards the end of October last year and so since that happened and the market shifted up a bit towards where we still are today, yeah that's been where it's sitting. Prior to the fix though and when people were still exploiting, some were selling bulk literally at $1/k. I'd say the standard from any person was $1.25 - $1.5/k tops by the end of it. The price gradually just dragged down as the circulation kept getting pumped and all of those guys were competing with one another to get sales. Or at least that's how it seems from my outside perspective and so how I imagine it went down to some degree anyway.

Well both have ther pros/cons. People don't want to buy tickets on longer lotteries. Just the ones ending soon like in a day or two. However that also affects many people missing out on shorter lotteries. Its a double edged sword.

Yeah absolutely he does. Skull is quite generous when it comes to the gold eggs and when he doesn't even need to be to the extent he is since more times than not they've had near to no competition. Just your classic Skull W though, what else is there to say haha.

For Golden I think atleast 15 days should be there. It gives people ample amount of time to see that it is up for grabs so noone misses, yet it is a short duration as well.

Yeah that makes sense for the timeline and price history you're going off of then. As soon as the exploit got fixed and all of the bytes from the associated members wiped, it only left a handful of people with a large amount of bytes and even then, only a couple of them were selling. So naturally the bytes market pumped up a bit then and has stayed about at the same spot since. Stability for that kind of thing is good though of course.

Gold eggs used to make good bytes back in the day not now . If the game gets updated then i would expect egg prices to rise but for now complete waste of time .

One went for like 60-70K like 10 days ago which was put up by jcole. Then one went 2 days ago for 4K. Now one is in lottery for grabs at 1250 per ticket. You can go nd try your luck.

Eran - December 20, 2022, 3:20 am

I might throw in a ticket if I'm successful in flipping today. Would probably resell it rather than hatching it simply because I do not have the time. Also OP consider yourself lucky you got a lucky egg with 100 posts while some have 24000 and no gold egg xD

Split the odds in half and make it a die roll!

Price is to expensive for a dead game . Who ever wins it i doubt it will be used it will be put back in the lottery . But until the game is sorted out then it's pointless looking for prices like this one is priced .

Possibly if you had put the price reasonable then more people would buy tickets but that price is just greed
