Thread: Anyone hyped by the upcoming solo leveling anime ?

chocovoltic - December 19, 2022, 6:15 pm

I really like the webtoon but i'm afraid of an anime adaptation :( pls don't mess this up A-1 Pictures..

Why are you afraid of the adaptation?

Nobless was great and so was ToG

It'll be fine. The fandom around that manhwa has blown so much that people will probably eat it, even if it's shit.

I heard the anime should be good, but I've also heard it won't due to the manga justice it was the first manga I ever read

If solo leveling were a pile of dog shit (the good shit), millions of readers/watchers would probably go high heavens or nine hells just to read/watch it, even if it's animated by A-1 Pictures. They will sniff it like it's chocolate or caramel, they will chew on it, they will hug it to sleep, and lick it even if it's expired because it's that good!

And yea, they did say that they won't adapt it fully due to the manhwa/novel being 'you know'... or so most comments said.

Btw, there's side stories of solo leveling out now on asura if you haven't read it yet ;)

Not for a long time. Jan 2024.

I wish I had not read the manga but hope the anime lives up and makes justice. I hope the anime goes more in detail

As it is now it seems to be going to be dissappointing...
