As washington once said, 95% of gambling addicts quit just before they hit it big.

Keep pushing.

Anyways, how has your ball luck been thus far?

Red ball is a classic.

Simple and very representative of christmas, why overcomplicate the ornament?

What are we trying to do, confuse the kids?

If it was content promotions like this consistently, I could see the cons outweighing the pros. If HF QART does get implemented eventually, it could lead to more activity as word gets around, which could also lead to more quality members, but we'll see.

Once you obtain the first ornament, you'll want the second and then the third.

Earlier I am too lucky to get the 2 balls pretty fast and I am expecting to get the final one but until now I haven't find it ?

I don't believe an end date was given, although I could've overlooked it. I would assume it's only here for the week until next year again. You're not too late, you should have enough time. And not 100 posts, but 100 characters minimum within the post.

I believe these can only be obtained during the Christmas period this year.

They can be re added again next year though, I believe.

I honestly can't remember it could have been 20,000,30,000 bytes and the person who took it down would get a special gift for the game

But after the bounty got put on i was hit so hard by everyone and the trouble was it was not reviving he had done that also to sit and watch his power just drop and drop was painful at the end if someone with just 1 green egg hit mine then he would have won

It was just like an egg timer . Lasted 3 or 4 days . Then the next golds there power was a lot lower

Told him i wasn't happy about what went down but yeah not so nice

I was good at the game tho was the first to get the HUM award

I remember when I built up my HUM character and miscalculated which led to being unable to afford the potions to protect him overnight. I can't imagine watching yours slowly fall to its death, especially being a golden egg. I believe with the right strategy, you could still make it to the top, you'll just need enough bytes for the game. Although I haven't played it enough to actually speak on it compared to an experienced player.

Yeah it was heart breaking i know it was just a game but to sit there and be hopeless and watch everyone try take him down was awful if he was able to gain strength again then that would have been fine . But as i said it was like a egg timer every hit hurt him and he wasn't gaining nothing back in power and strength wouldn't have mattered if you had 1 million bytes . Xerotic had adjusted him so he wouldn't last long . Was good fun taking out others tho

I haven't got any of the two remaining balls. Maybe because I've become inactive again for two days?

And why OP became exiled? Did something happen while he pursue collecting balls?

He probably didn't have enough balls to stick around here.

Still trying to chase the damn second one.
