I need to graph a chart of 100,000 datapoints.

For some reason the datapoints arent showing on the chart!

I'd say you probably need to say how much you are paying and not just ask for help here...

Also, I'd love to help but would need more information. what have you done? is there any error?
anything that IS showing up?

What is the process u did?

Can you try with lower amount of datapoints and see if it works?

What type of graph..

You should check out this video. The original poster ran into the same problem you are having. In his video he was trying to graph around 100,000 data points.
