I'm interested in your methodology are you using basic OSINT Framework along with just some tools? An OSINT Guidebook?

Are you certified in this? I'm just curious because I know a little bit about OSINT myself

I just free style it hahaha, i always have. I know about a bunch of different styles but i don't stick to any i simply just "do it" Hahahah

Some is just google dorking some is using offered applications on kali, some just searching about, so i can't give you a solid answer aside from i have my own way of doing it all, ahaha.

Keep in mind i haven't been in the field for the past 2 years but i used to run a thread just like this.

I need someone who can search myself up, I want to make sure people don't know where I live if possible.

I can tell you if the information is accurate or not and I can pay you if you find anything decent
