It's been years I feel genuinely sad about it. Stopped watching so long ago. But still right in the feels.

Ash has enough time in the spotlight as well as his pikachu lol. He's got to experience basic immortality and the inability to age. Has has multiple eye-candy travel mates im sure is cannon that he fucked outside of the episodes and manga. He's beaten any league that mattered and the fact they would have to make up BS logic for the pokemon world in the shows and manga to present dangerous scenarios.... He would always have plot armor.

8-900 pokemon now, I lost track of how many regions, and powercreep forcing its way in.... I say let him and his outdated/weak af pikachu (without bullshit anime mechanics making him viable) go. Not even with a bank imo, hes that overused/played.
