Hey man I need to look at them 1 by 1 to deem valid. Looks like they are all blogs. Can you link a specific mobile keyword in them?

I searched mobile / android / ios , on this URL it doesn't seem to yield any results.

<https://ptpodcast.com/?s=mobile>

I need to check them 1 by 1 when I have time to reward by the way. Show me all mobile specifics in these URLs maybe I'll consider. Right now I did not have the time yet. Its not how it works when you send bunch of links and expecting a reward. I needed to check them 1 by 1 to verify btw.

Hey.

I mean, you never said it couldn't be blogs.

Of course you need to check them to verify, how else would you know if you got what you asked for?

The keywords you are looking for might not be on the front-page, but then again, you didn't include in your thread that it has to be on the front-page of the actual website.

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

Here is a notable write up regarding Pegasus

<https://info.lookout.com/rs/051-ESQ-475/images/pegasus-exploits-technical-details.pdf>

The write-up titled "Pegasus Exploits Technical Details" provides a technical analysis of the Pegasus spyware, which is believed to be created by the Israeli firm NSO Group. The document outlines the various technical mechanisms used by the spyware to infiltrate and take control of a targeted mobile device, including zero-click vulnerabilities, iMessage vulnerabilities, and other attack vectors. The write-up also includes information on how the spyware communicates with its command and control (C&C) servers, the types of data it can exfiltrate from the compromised device, and how it is able to evade detection by security software. Overall, the write-up provides a detailed and technical analysis of the Pegasus spyware that can be used by security researchers and professionals to better understand and defend against this type of advanced persistent threat (APT).

Check out their blog and sort by malware

If that isnt suitable id recommend checking companies that offer mobile security as they are likely to have threat analyst teams that regularly publish write ups
