I've spoken to Flaxpicker and we've decided to bring back the infamous lounge group Echo with a twist...

Echo's goal is to improve forum activity we are going to achieve this by taking advantage of the bytes system which Omniscient kindly implemented, members will be required to top up the crew vault with 100 bytes per week to maintain membership (that's roughly 50 posts on the forum per week).

Requirements:

100 bytes & minimum of 25 posts on the forum per week (holidays/breaks can be taken if you notify me)

No open or unresolved deal disputes

Current members will not need to meet these requirements but once your membership runs out you will be required to follow these rules.

Application:

There is no specific application layout, tell us how you'll help increase forum activity and what your forum interests are i.e. main sections you post in.

Be as creative as you can to stand out from the rest.

Kind Regards,
Dredd

Good point I've added a minimum 25 post requirement as well.

Id love to take part of this, im one of the most active at the moment and im planning on staying that way. I love this place and bringing activity is one of my priorities. Im going to host a movie night as well after newyears, maybe something we all could do together?
Cheers.

For sure, thanks for the invite brother :)

That looks awesome. Would love to participate! I've been inactive the last 2-3 days due work but I'm fully active again in a few hours :-)

I'm mostly posting into lounge, hacking categories or just the sellers section since those interest me a lot. I think I can easily get those 25+ posts a week and also give 100 bytes a week away. Shouldn't be a problem at all.

Please lmk. Good luck with your crew!

PS: Got 7k bytes coming in about 1-2 hours :-)

That was really creative and outside the box so after a long hard discussion with the team we've decided to offer you a management role. Welcome brotha.

i'm interested in joining a group on hack forums

I'm pretty active on hack forum, and i would love to contribute to a group with successful marketers.
Thanks in advance

I'd love to be considered as I would like to be a part of a group on the site, as I'm fairly active and always eager to do new things. I try to keep things HQ by posting about things I think would be genuinely engaging, and methods I like to try and believe that others could benefit from significantly. I aim to keep up morale with funny images every now and then, and I'm always around to lend a helping hand or even just an ear to vent/rant to when someone needs it. I'm a good brainstormer, always thinking outside of the box, and I believe I could make good contributions to the group.

Also, here is Dred, Dredd and Dreddy:

Well all I do on HF is post, I'm trying to get that 24k award, so I mean how doesn't that help with activity:p

I think I'll be a perfect fit for this crew, and look forward from hearing your reply

fysiokungen - December 27, 2022, 4:14 pm

Im in!! How do i join You guys?

nd684d - January 21, 2023, 3:10 am

Hey!

I have applied to a few groups, but thus far no luck! It's because I'm old I swear. Anyways, I have been active and am having more time now that I am changing roles at work therefore I plan to be on here a lot more. There is so much to read and learn and I am thrilled that I have the time to do so. That being said, I am a link hoarder and I maintain an active start page that could be of use. I love to dig deep and search for things and help others in their feats. I am an easy-going laid-back guy pushing 40 so you won't get any cyber-drama out of me. I'm definitely okay with the bytes requirement and I love the thought of a post requirement because this will push me to be even more active and grind for those rewards I'm eyeing! As of right now I am mostly active in the social section.

For your consideration!

how many vacation days are members allowed?
Sorry boss can't post this week! All good if I take some time off?

Dredd - February 27, 2023, 1:13 am

Taking the crew in a different direction, bytes based systems don't work as of yet since there's no way of automatically obtaining bytes via subscription.

Well, what do we have here? "I never broke the law, I AM THE LAW!"

ChronoBiff - August 5, 2023, 9:09 pm

I am very active. Particularly in the lounge. I'd love to increase traffic to the community.
