Thread: WordPress Affiliate site with \$160k+ profit past 12 months

iGamingInsane - December 29, 2022, 2:32 pm

Got an affiliate site I launched just around 2-3 years ago. It's a site in the crypto iGaming industry, so all income generated is in crypto.

The site is made in WordPress using a theme and my years of experience, but I am not a developer. I can edit a bit of PHP and CSS at most.

I am looking for a web development partner, who can help me take this project to the next level in exchange for a portion of the company. I am only interested in finding someone well-experienced with a solid CV/portfolio and a good track record.

The site has made just above $160k in profits in the past 12 months, but the real potential is more than 10 times higher than this using more proper techniques and technology. I am open to a complete remake of the site outside of WordPress.

Let me know if you have any questions.

I can see I wasn't quite detailed enough. I am mainly looking for a full-stack/backend developer. Front-end work is a lot easier to outsource if need be.

What was the overall income of the site besides the profit so I know the margins.

Total expenses are a few hundred dollars a month on average for hosting, a few WordPress plugins and buying a few backlinks here and there.

Are you able to DM me the site so I can take a look at it? I'm happy to help out in all areas.
