Thread: Users currently viewing a thread

If I recall correctly, there used be a list of users who are currently viewing a thread at the bottom. Or possibly when you are on a specific forum, it would show who is currently viewing that forum instead of just on a thread.

What do you guys think about having that brought back?

I'm actually going to bring it back but only for Vendors. They're really the only group of members with a legitimate use for it.

Agreed, maybe have it only on marketplace threads for everyone? But then again only for Vendors would be useful as well.

I like this idea a lot. Vendors would have a good use for it, but honestly, so would people chatting on regular threads. Able to see who is potentially engaging in a particular post.

Oh wow I'm so happy to read this, I've been wanting this feature back for so long now. It was really cool but also very useful to have.

This will actually really help in sketchy scenarios when MM'ing should someone say "they're busy" / "not online" / etc etc.. I remember utilizing it for the same reason back when we used to have it as well.

This would be a great vendor perk

Yes this is actually good suggestion. We have improved the quality of forums in last couple of weeks and this would be a great add on.

Could be useful in that type of situation as well for sure. Maybe a 'thread view history' that is available for Vendors that let's them see when a specific person viewed their thread instead of just in real-time would be helpful too.

Do you guys feel that this feature would be useful for non-vendors? I would say so, but maybe just in marketplace threads.

A thread view history would be fantastic to have actually. It might even be able to be added to the already existing "Who's Posted" feature on threads.

That is not something I am going to log.

Regardless I'm excited enough about the return of the currently viewing feature.

Yeah I thought it would be pretty useful but makes complete sense to not log that kind of info now that I think about it ?

Yeah I suppose so lol. I didn't really think about it in depth before I replied either, I just saw the idea and was like "oh hey that'd be neat" without realizing the absolute downfall that comes with it. ?
