Lately I've been watching A LOT of mrwhosetheboss.

He's such a charismatic guy tbh and I like his gadgets videos.

Other than that, I watch Twitch rage channels, gameplay videos and football (soccer) moments.

This of course varies and in a month or two, these will probably be something way different haha

Artisan - January 9, 2023, 6:34 am

eddberke1 - January 9, 2023, 12:14 pm

Oh man YouTube is my primary source of video entertainment these days. I have streaming services, all of them really because of my wife & I rarely use them unless there's a movie I want to watch or show. -- That being said on YT I range anywhere from old favorites like Criken to IDAT. Mostly automotive, tech, engineering, fashion, creative stuff mostly mixed with some gaming videos that strike my fancy. I watch GVMERS a lot for their gaming documentaries & informational videos. Great channel.

Seaking - January 9, 2023, 1:22 pm

Get on YouTube and enjoy some kurzgesagt videos. They have really good presentation and break down complex information into easy to understand bits. I've learned a lot listening and watching them.

OMSPK - January 11, 2023, 6:25 am

I prefer mostly car and tech videos as I'm in the industry myself and it helps keep me up to date on whats coming out, but other than that true crime docs or reruns of LivePD I may have missed.

You might like this channel called Catfished. I don't know why romance scams fascinate me they are so horrible. I've had the occasional experience of someone that was clearly out to try one with me, but the ones I came across were SO completely bad and useless at it. lol Some of them show a photo of a white soldier and list their race as Native American because they are in Africa and have absolutely no idea that Native American is what Americans now call an American Indian. ? They think it means white American.

I like scuba diving and caving and found a couple channels called "Scary Interesting" and "MrDeified" that cover a lot of incidents related to the two topics. I feel like there is overlap with what you enjoy - you should check them out.

That and maybe even urban explorer videos?

Someone offered to take me caving a week or so ago, and would have loved to, but he's a married guy and I know he just wants to have sex with me so I had to ignore him. He's also 18 years younger than me not that I'd mind if he wasn't fucking married.

I watch the interrogation videos a lot too. They can be so fascinating. I watch the police bodycam usually only on thigs with commentary.

I don't watch live streams because the beginning of those can be so boring when they're greeting everyone. lol

Honestly, I'm mostly into money-related content anything about making money online, side hustles, business breakdowns, digital income streams, that kind of stuff. I don't even try all of them, but I like understanding how people build systems that print cash.

And yeah, when my brain needs a break, I end up watching videos about whatever game is trending at the moment. I'm not super hardcore, I just like exploring what's new, what people are hyping, and how the mechanics work.
