Thread: [GET YOUR DREAM GIRL TODAY - AI POWERED \[BRAND NAME REMOVED\] BOT](#)

Angela White - January 10, 2023, 6:20 pm

AI-Powered [BRAND NAME REMOVED] bot to automatically like / match with people based on their ethnicity, interests, zodiac sign, income bracket, and other determining factors such as if they have kids or pets.

For example, you only want to date Latinas with no kids aren't a Libra like your shitty ex-girlfriend? This will match with all of them in your city without you having to spend hours swiping through people.

This software also includes a mass-messaging feature that allows you to message all your new (unmessaging) matches, or ones you've already interacted with.

This is fully API based using the v2 and newest v3 [BRAND NAME REMOVED] endpoints. No selenium.

Full HTTP / HTTPS proxy support

[Video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MDF94bq-32Y>]

Price is set at $50 for a lifetime license. You will receive all updates to the software as soon as they become available and will be able to suggest features.

Thread design coming soon.

Hey! I see that there's an option for income bracket. If I wanted to look for a male that's between 35-50 making a certain amount of income. There's an option on the bot for income?

It's developed in C#, and making an AI chat bot with this would also be possible.

Not very useful.

It hasn't any smart feature.

It's simply just an automated software.

That's.. The entire point? It automates the swiping process? This isn't for eWhoring it's for actually automating usage of the app.

Also not sure how using AI to determine people's ethnicities from their pictures and looking up all their jobs on Glassdoor to see how much they make a year, and a mass-messenger that lets you only message new matches or older existing matches separately isn't considered any sort of "smart" feature to you.

Look, the task you mentioned can be accomplished by using a sample of reference, for all the ethnicities; then using an algorithm loop capable of comparing any prompted imagine profile with the dataset saved inside its Database. If that mean using an AI engine, then any Software since MS-DOS would be an AI. In fact, in absolute terms it is: and you are right. Despite, with the term AI: we are currently matching more advanced Technologies and Frameworks. If you wanna improve significantly your Software; Business; and profits: contact me, and we may try to cooperate. In the interests of both us, and the customers. Obviously, if possible.

Best regards,
Nukengon.

I assume good looking. It's a valid point, all the bots in the world aren't gonna help you get your dream girl if you're an ugly MF. Or you have no confidence, or you have poor personal hygiene etc.

You have not purchased anything from me and I have never added you on Telegram.

You did not purchase the software through the link at the TOP OF THE THREAD that gives you the program immediately after purchasing.

You have never messaged me on-site.

I don't use Telegram at all, and never have. If someone added you on Telegram claiming to be me and you gave them money without confirming on-site, then you're just an idiot. The ONLY form of communication I use off-site is Discord, which I even linked in this thread.

Again, there's literally a fucking button to buy the software directly IN THIS THREAD, so why the fuck you thought to add some random ass person on Telegram and send them money instead of just clicking the button blows my mind.

PLEASE don't buy my software.

It's able to determine people's income if they have it on their profile.

Next update will let you determine people's weight and automatically swipe.

It can also let you send mass messages to people based on if you've ever messaged them or not.

But question for you, what would an "AI Auto Swiper" be to you? There's a video attached to the sales thread of it just being an auto-liker with AI & extra options. What did you think it was? I mean I provided a video of it and described all of the features in the first paragraph of the thread.
