Thread: Youtube 2023 Award Contest - Win 100k Bytes

Omniscient - January 18, 2023, 2:03 pm

Not since 2013 has the Youtube award been made available to HF. So let's get to promoting HF again.

Requirements:

1. Minimum of 60 seconds
2. URL of HF must be shown in the video
3. URL must be in the description
4. Must be uploaded to Youtube
5. Start a thread in an appropriate section embedding your video
6. Must have audio and video
7. Must not be private and should have embed enabled

Video Content Suggestions:

1. Hacking Tutorials
2. HF usage tutorials
3. HF promotional videos
4. Gaming cheat videos
5. Testimonial on why you love HF

Please place your video in this thread along with the thread you created on HF with the video embedded to qualify. I will grant an award and 1000 Bytes to every qualified participant for their effort. Best videos (judged by me) will get these bonuses (plus the 1k and award), 100k bytes to the top video, 50k bytes to 2nd place, and 25k bytes to 3rd place.

This offer/contest will likely run for many weeks. I don't have an end date yet. Estimate 2-6 weeks.

Note: Rules subject to change without notice. Just in case I need to make adjustments.

Thank you.

Smexy - January 18, 2023, 2:09 pm

Damn, 100k bytes is a good price for like 30-60 minutes of work.

I wish everyone who competes goodluck and quality time recording the video! :)

EDIT: Do participants score on views likes and comments or is it purely based on the actual quality and your opinion of the video?

Eran - January 18, 2023, 2:33 pm

Pretty nice incentive that everyone who has a decent video will get an award. I'll be going for it. Looking to learn about video editing so this will come in handy.

Likely judge based on production quality and message. Not on views/likes/comments (engagement).

I went ahead and made a video.

I hope this can qualify. xD

I might actually be able to do something decent with this regarding site usage.

Zexo - January 18, 2023, 2:54 pm

You might want to also have some options for youtube shorts. They're getting the most traffic at the moment.

I received mine from the 2018 that you hosted so all the best to those entering in this one ?

They're 60 seconds max, wonder if it's possible to embed them here though.

I was wondering about that too. I have to look into it.

One day I should just auto convert a YT url into an embed. Maybe I'll do that for shorts if the code is different.

This is URL structure:

<https://youtube.com/shorts/9qpMuFrTEKo>

Looks like it's the same thing though.

So the short can be easily embedded into HF. I can probably alter the YT mycode to look for the short version too and just display it like above.

This is slightly embarrassing but I forgot about that in 2018. Well the new award image imho looks a bit better and you can absolutely earn the new award too. The requirements of this contest are different. I did the 2018 one hoping to get promotional videos. I use this one to this day on the Registration page to entice new members.

That video has over 550k views now.

I might actually give it a shot and create a 2023 trendy short for HF. I need to brainstorm how to put it in 60 seconds though. 2-6 weeks is more than enough though.

I'm not sure how YT shorts work though because I know that TikTok only shows your videos to people from your country so you have to use proxies if you want to reach US audience. Does anyone know if YT shorts are using the same algorithm?

This is simply not true. It took me 5 minutes to record (my 4 minute video) and one minute to upload and post it to the correct thread and forum. Don't miss out on a free award and the chance at 100k bytes because you decided you can't sit down with OBS and talk about HF for 60 seconds.

I've made a video and uploaded it here also:

I know the award is a one time deal, but am I allowed to post another in the near future?

theDuke - January 21, 2023, 2:16 am

Had a go at this. I have strep atm and couldn't talk for this, so used a text to speech and it turned out pretty decent I think. Haven't done video editing in years so I apologize if I am a bit rusty. Might be posting other videos detailing the various games and features HF has to offer just for practice, promoting the site and potentially assisting newer members.

Good luck to everyone in the contest!

Edit: I'll probably start working on it today.

Just published my take on it, I might do another one if I get the time to do it, don't have a lot of it at the moment. One that has a better 'flow' than what I made now, should've been able to make a great one since I do graphics and videos most of the time but turned out a bit meh.

And another edit: I completely missed that it had to be a minimum of 60 seconds long. Whoopsie.

Waste of time scrub, this award is mine. I just have to learn how to make videos and make them high quality.

Looking forward to seeing the results on this one, spent a fair bit of time editing and cleaning up audio and footage on mine, and can see others put a lot of effort into theirs too. Hope we get more contests like this in the future, as video editing and production is one of my favourite things to do!

A new thread with the submission all embedded would be better for us to discuss, kinda confusing leaving this open I just started mine today to and came here to check the requirements

That's a good idea, and for future contests, just makes it easier to refer back to and can be closed after each submission to prevent spam and a long ass thread that makes it harder to navigate through.

I could make one, just not sure if it'll make a difference since we're not getting any sort of update on this contest in a while. Nevertheless, I'm hoping we're getting the winners announced soon so the efforts of those who really tried don't go to waste ?

Might be worth having one put together as a future reference point for any contests that come about after? But as you say, might not make a huge difference if it's not being done now.
