being serious though on the looks of the setups it's fire.
Appreciate it, man. I recycled it a dozen times but had to stop being too OCD. ?

Great video man! Did you see mine? Our AI voice sound really similar lol. What did you use to edit?

Wow, the AI voice is almost the same. Did you use VoiceBooking? Edited with CapCut surprisingly. ?

Much appreciated. Your video is very detailed, you did a great job as well. ?

Likewise. Aside from having it downloaded on my phone, I never tried the desktop version until I created the video. It's really good for being free IMO.

The video is nice but honestly you could have done better with the music.

The piano just doesn't blend in with the message you're trying to give.

Completely agree. I had to pick between two that I had downloaded but this one seemed more fitting for some reason. The other one was more of a dramatic feel.

Thanks for the feedback.

This one is still dramatic, sort of, using something similar to MrRobot's soundtrack would definitely work better, but the video and the writing are great, very good description of what you can do on the forum.

Awesome Video! How long did it take you to put all of this together?

That would've been a great idea, it didn't cross my mind at the time. The script took the longest because I wanted to include every detail the forum offered. I took ideas from the HF wiki and other site descriptions that ranked HF as a top 10 "hacking" forum.

Thanks, sir.

The one uploaded took about two hours... but I had at least 10+ videos made that I deleted because I wasn't satisfied with them. One was an animated video and the others were YT shorts. I added more text to the AI voice which made it longer than 60 seconds, so I was unable to create a short in the end, although I would've liked to do a short or animation considering it would've been different from the others.

I still may do an animated video if I have time. The idea I had in mind was pretty cool.

Thanks for the compliment. ?
