Waddup HF,

Your boy back at it with some random ass questions lmao,

So what do you guys think the world would be like if technology was around but no cyber activity existed i know it sounds like a dumb question in which it is because come on a world with computers but no hacking ? but just let me know what you think lmao.

P.S. Im also blazed asf right now and need a good snack to make or go get anybody got and recommendations thanks!

(I will QL your response for your recommendation, iffff i don't flip all the bytes away LMAO)

Hacking evolves technology, it is necessary and wont be going anywhere.

if the entire power grid goes down, i don't think there will be any hacking.

is there a way to prevent such an attack? could hackers come together to develop more enhanced cyber security for the power grid that would render such an attack impossible?

Im sure something like that might be possible as long as law enforcement isn't informed about it then yea something like that could happen

People will want to hack whoever has something of value in the cyber world..

I'd imagine we wouldn't have moved forward much and would still be using Windows 97 style OS and floppy discs.

Thank God for hackers.
