Recently got back into it, will go for top 500 if I find the time.

Skills matrix is stupid lmao fuck windows machines

If I can get top 500 without doing ANY more windows machines I will call that a success.

Oh shi-, haven't seen this site before. Just made an account, may have to give this a whirl. Wanted to get some more hands-on experience.

Worth it?

It's been a bit since I've been active on THM but this thread piqued my interest again. My rank dropped over 10k hehe but that's to be expected after being inactive.

I've worked with mostly Linux machines and rooms specific to network exploitation. I was planning on doing last year's Advent of Cyber event but it totally slipped my mind.

I always found THM to be too hand holdy for my liking. I like the "you're on your own" element of HTB boxes.

Really? I think you are only doing the walkthroughs on tryhackme, not the actual boxes.
