Thread: Looking for a partner - crypto projects

SIM-4083854 - February 11, 2023, 7:11 am

Hey everyone.

I am looking for a partner to team up for some crypto projects.

Long story short, in 2021 when there was the shitcoins boom I made quite a some money, almost 6 figures in 1 month.

Since then I had other things to do, also did some NFT projects and so on...

I want to get back into the space, things have changed a bit, but there are money to be made for sure. I have some ideas that I want to share with someone, we can do all kinds of projects...

If you're interested and you know about this space a bit feel free to message me. I'm looking only for serious people with whom I can split the costs.

Skills are not necessary, only english speaking to be able to keep the community engaged. (if you know REACT/ Next.js could be a huge plus for someth - but not necessary)

Have a good day guys!

I've also made alot of money in that bullrun, especially in DeFi. For those few very hot months I went full immersion actually since it was worth it for the money could've made. Feel free to convo or dm me to discuss if you want
