You go first without MM & that too for 550$?

Lesson to be learnt here.

He had a 50% warning.. He couldn't respond. So I revoked the warning, so now he can.

But why would you do a $500 deal with a new member with no ratings at all?

TITAN API you have 24 hours to respond else you'll be closed.

All you had to do was go into Convo and ask, heck a thread or question in Site News, someone would have pointed you in the right direction. Only a very small percentage of HF community are scammers. And they usually target new and naive members. Sorry you got scammed though. Pretty sure they won't respond and I'll be closing their account. But for $20 upgrade they seemingly scammed you $500 so I really doubt they'll give a shit.

Can I ask honestly did you have any pause at all about sending someone $500? I just don't understand how $500 gets sent to a stranger on the internet with a forum account without maybe at least some understanding of how things work and safeguards.

May be I too trustful and think too good of a people. What goes around comes around. I learned my lesson anyway.

Like i said all sales are final u can read me TOS, u can try dispute or what ever just read TOS. This is a very weak response.

If you want to keep your account and avoid tarnishing your reputation before it has even been built I'd suggest at the least providing some supporting evidence that the scraper was delivered. Something other than "read TOS", otherwise I'm not sure how you expect anyone to side with you.

Within your dispute it says you deleted all your messages/message history between the disputant as well, care to address that?

So it's good that you admitted that we had proxy scrapper deal, because I did have any proof before (didn't have contract and you deleted message history). Also what about IG scrapper that we had contract about? Was it also delivered too?
