Thread: Omegle ADs \(\$12/340 messages per HOUR!\) 12 hour runs!

BigDap - March 4, 2023, 6:36 pm

You all know what omegle.com is: it's a website where random strangers can get together and chat, matched on mutual tags or at random. You can meet people on video chat or on text chat and talk about damn near anything. Omegle.com if used correctly can find tons of good chats - lots of good friends - girls to date/fun and loads of wasted time.

I have 4 residential VPNs that i use - one of which is special and i use it for omegle.com, this VPN is hardly used and is almost always not-banned on omegle.com, This allows me to get on omegle.com even if i get banned from omegle - within 10 seconds.

I have 6 virtual machines on my computer which run google chrome and a VPN service [residential] which allows me to run messages on omegle automated all day and all night long. There are 3 tabs on each machine that post a message every 3 seconds to a new stranger. Thats 6 messages every 3 seconds being seen by strangers either randomly or on tags - whichever i choose. 18 messages every 3 seconds is 360 messages per 1 hour. I get banned about every 2 hours and switch IPs/locations and get right back on!

Id be willing to run a bot on omegle for you (one client at a time for 360 messages/minute) or 2 clients at a time for half that. these messages can be about anything really, and the tags i can use to find the type of person you'd be seeking is unlimited - use your imagination.

Recap:

Im selling omegle.com ADs and i can post 360 messages per minute without getting banned often and if i do get banned i have a residential vpn to get right back on omegle.com
