This is the hacking tutorials section, why don't you provide a basic example of how to clone the files to your computer, and show an example command to run the program?

Rather than just linking to the tool itself, as right now it's not much of a tutorial. I know to me and you it's trivial to download and run it, but to newbs it might not be.

Good github share, will test this one. By the looks of it might be better than Sherlock.

Yup. Welcome

No worries, upon re-reading my post I can see that it may come across as blunt, that was not my intention.

I'm new here and very interested in learning all this stuff. Is anyone willing to point me in the right direction for a basic tutorial for cloning and running programs from github. Pm me?
