Groups aren't $2k though, that's why Zeus and others were selling at around $5k.

The people saying "oh groups are worth $2k - $3k" are talking about the groups without any group upgrades or extra forum perks.

Example of group upgrades:

*you bought Olympians, which comes with:

- 2 extra group sub forums
- 8 custom gif post stars (custom gif stars cost more than custom static stars)
- Custom username color
- Custom bolded username on posts
- Custom bolded forum font (your name shows up bold anywhere on the forum (sections, convo, etc..)) unlike other groups with only bold usernames on posts)

That's why you paid more for a group like Olympians compared to a group like PROFIT which has no group upgrades or extra forum perks at all (just the plain white username and regular official group post stars, basically how groups were back in the day (seeing you're a 2012 member I'd imagine you'd remember)).

Example of extra forum perks:

- The groups Pink LSZ and COINED can both give +10/-10 popularity ratings

Cooligan - April 4, 2023, 10:28 am

(Apr 4, 2023 10:09 AM)-Scrub Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Group owners have sold there upgraded groups for 2k either because they were desperate for the funds or because they were done with the forum, or because they purchased it with more then one person and the other person wanted out.

Pretty much this yeah. Meanwhile you got Zeus out here who doesn't care about waiting literal ages to get the price he wants lol.

Groups are 2k to those who are desperate.

In terms of extra add-ons to a group, it's mainly dependent on the person.

Luckily for me, buying this group came from pure boredom & nostalgia purposes, so I'd only sell if I got a 10k+ offer, tbh.

Maybe having more owners like that will lead to an increase in group activity.

DashPHP - April 4, 2023, 1:34 pm

Nah trust me that's how people here value official group prices. It costs thousands to upgrade it to the point where Olympians is for you. Only way of getting around that is buying an already existing group with said upgrades/perks.

Are you a scammer?: No. I've literally never scammed anyone online or in real life.

If yes, state why:

Tell me a bit about yourself:

I am a 23 Year Old ex-Professional Gamer & Content Creator. I produce music, mix & master. I love everything gaming related from classic games & consoles to everything happening in the eSports scene currently. I'm a very open minded individual always looking to meet new people to share ideas with, talk to, game with or just be friends. Nothing too crazy, I'm not a hacker or cyber Security expert but I'd love to get my foot in the door in those respective areas. I'm also in love with fashion.

What are you passionate about?

If you know me you'd know I'm most passionate about my Family, friends & building genuine connections / relationships.

I try my best to apply that passion to everything I do from music, playing games to content creation. Also very passionate about clothes and collecting rare items.

What are you good at?

Very hard question. The way I see things is I can be good at anything I apply myself to with the right tools for learning but I would say I'm good at talking to people, running businesses in certain niche areas, making music, graphic design and lots of other things I enjoy doing in my free time. Nothing too crazy but I definitely bring value to lots of the different things I'm into already.

What are some hobbies of yours?:Music production, Audio engineering & Sound design.

Gaming for fun & professionally. I'm very competitive.

Making money online & in real life.

Anything related to cars except EVs. Lol.

Shooting guns and outdoors activities.

Practicing CSS, Js & PHP.

Graphic design

Socializing & meeting new people.

Creating content for others to use & enjoy.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group?

One of the main things I'd love to do is share my knowledge of social media algorithms. Help members expand their reach and networks. I'd be willing to write guides and create content exclusively for the group & its members. I'd also love to get more social with HF members and a group like Olympians would allow me to do that better than anywhere else on the site wether it's gaming with group members, hosting events and play sessions or exclusive giveaways I am willing to do whatever I can & whatever it takes to benefit the group.

Would you say that other people would call you an "asshole" or "rude"?

No definitely not. I'd would say I'm considered a good voice of reason among my friend groups & peers. I do not resort to confrontation in any form unless required. I'm really a very open minded individual who enjoys point of views from every & all people.

Not a scammer, that's the lowest form of hacking. (unless you count review shilling, but that's just a little side gig)

Hobby-wise I'm a musician and an artist. For reference, I made my icon and make a lot of digital art. If you want to see what I can do I'll make you something new because it's faster for me to make something new than to decide what to send.

For work I'm a web developer and a mobile app developer on the side. I have experience in a lot of different languages and frameworks (because my full time insists on using outdated tech :P)

I provide a wide array of somewhat useful to totally useless skills/knowledge. Most of my life revolves around tech, but I've been all over the place and can tell you some wild stories. I'm always down to bounce ideas around.

Not an asshole, but I'm always down for jokes (I try not to offend anyone).

Are you a scammer?:

No, that's the lowest form of hacking. I do however have a small review shilling business. The way I see it, scamming large companies is ethically okay.

Tell me a bit about yourself:

I'm a 27 year old web and mobile app developer. In the past fifteen years I've gone from playing in a few somewhat successful bands, to working as an audio technician, then a loudspeaker engineer, then a computer repair technician, and now as a web developer. I also work with/own a portion of a startup where I'm a mobile app developer.

What are you passionate about?

Learning is my primary goal in life. I like to learn and apply my skills. I'm also passionate about teaching. I find that once I understand something, I have an ability to explain it well to anyone.

Nothing is as complicated as it looks.

What are you good at?

I'm good at solving problems. I'm good at reading people. I'm good at positioning information in a way that appeals to others. I'm good at writing, and I'm good at developing new ideas.

What are some hobbies of yours?: Music is a big one. Right now I make electronic music in a solo project, but I've been a bass player in a number of bands. I also go to a lot of shows and festivals.

I make digital art. No drawing for the most part, but a lot of abstract collages.

Rock climbing has been my work out lately.

3d printing is a new creative hobby for me.

I play League of Legends, but try to keep it within a reasonable timeframe (unless I'm with friends. I consider time spent with friends as time well spent, no matter the activity)

Ultimately I subscribe to the idea that you should have three hobbies: one that makes you money, one that keeps you creative and one that keeps you fit. I do my best to balance this ideal with my passion for learning new things.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group?

I have a deep understanding of computer hardware and can troubleshoot most issues remotely. Finding answers is a specialty of mine, even if the question is out of my area of expertise. I'm always happy to use my hobbies and other skills to help friends and colleagues.

Would you say that other people would call you an "asshole" or "rude"?

Not particularly. I don't shy away from jokes, which can sometimes upset people, but I'm always quick to apologize if I upset anyone. I do my best to be good to the people around me. Being an asshole forfeits your right to be treated kindly, but sometimes assholes are the people who really need kindness. Break the cycle.

Ultimately I believe that self improvement is a high ideal that everyone should strive for. Part of self improvement is about enjoying life and making connections. If these are the values Olympians agrees with and wants to foster, then I feel I'd fit well.

Hello there

I'm aether

I'm almost 22. My computer adventure is started with BYTE computer magazine. I love windows internals. I like to use linux distributions. I prefer Ubuntu. I'm experienced on C/C++ and .NET and I am always open to work with another programming languages too back end and front end you know that's same linguistic and paradigm. I'm interested in software development, e-commerce and cooperative projects and networking. Generally I am full-time online, I am doing workout everyday and will start to cycling under the beach bike path soon. My social life is that for now.

I want to join a group and always want to be learn and share and developing things everywhere!

Best regards.

Tell me a bit about yourself:

What are you passionate about?: Creating, I'm really into Business. I actually have several projects I'm developing along the lines of Fashion, Music Platforms, Model Management, Web Development, and several other things. Other than that, I'm also a comic writer, I'm actually finishing up the final ends of one of my comics I've been writing for a few years now; I expect to release it sometime next year. Other than that, I'm really into philosophy.

What are you good at? Anything I suppose, mostly art, I'm also very thought out. I like to plan things out, execute, see the results.

What are some hobbies of yours (no, smoking weed is not a hobby but you can put it anyways) Philosophy, Entrepreneurship, Video Games, Anime, Good Food, Girls.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group? I suppose you'd have to be the judge of that.

Would you say that other people would call you an "asshole" or "rude"? (answer seriously pls) Probably, I'm very serious and a realist so I don't too much live off of emotion, the things I say I guess aren't emotion based is what I'm trying to say. But, no hard feelings, and never am I trying to be an asshole. I'm actually quite friendly.

Tell me a bit about yourself: I'm an old school gamer. Aoler. Used to frequent the Warez private rooms back in the day as a teen. I have some investments that keep me afloat. I frequent the interwebs for laughs and to learn new things. I'm always open to learn and to help out where I can.

What are you passionate about? I'm passionate about making money. I'm always looking for ways to generate new sources of income. My dream is to become a full time digital nomad one day and to explore the world first hand.

What are you good at? I'm good at gaming. I consider myself a pretty good writer at times as well.

What are some hobbies of yours (no, smoking weed is not a hobby but you can put it anyways) gaming is my main hobby. I also stream full time daily. I also enjoy sky diving and motorcycle riding from time to time.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group? Depends. I'm always willing to help out and share knowledge with my peers. If I know something that can help I'll never hesitate to share. I have a past in social engineering to an extent. Although I don't utilize that anymore. I can be knowledgeable with some of those things. I also have some years experience streaming and can always advise in that aspect.

Would you say that other people would call you an "asshole" or "rude"? (answer seriously pls) I personally don't look to offend or troll people much even on the internet these days. If anyone doesn't get along with me it's usually them that's the issue. I'm pretty laid back most of the time.

Tell me a bit about yourself:

Hello, my username is AdobeHub, and I'm delighted to share some information about myself. I have a deep fascination with AI and its various aspects. I am genuinely passionate about understanding the intricacies of AI and its implications across different domains.

What are you passionate about?

My passion lies in exploring the realm of AI, delving into its capabilities, and uncovering its potential in various fields. From AI art to AI agents, I am captivated by the possibilities that arise when artificial intelligence is applied creatively and practically.

What are you good at?

I have developed a strong skill set in AI, allowing me to contribute effectively to discussions and projects. I am well-versed in the concepts, algorithms, and tools related to AI. Specifically, I excel in understanding and leveraging AI agents and their applications. I am capable of exploring the depths of AI-related topics and translating complex ideas into accessible insights.

What are some hobbies of yours?

Beyond my passion for AI, I enjoy engaging in activities that broaden my perspectives and creativity. These hobbies include photography, writing, and exploring philosophical and ethical questions. I find inspiration in seeking a comprehensive understanding of AI's potential and its impact on society.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group?

As a member of the group, I bring my expertise in AI and a holistic understanding of its applications. I can contribute in various ways, such as sharing my insights on AI agents, discussing cutting-edge AI advancements, and providing guidance on incorporating AI into different fields. Additionally, I offer a deep curiosity and a drive to explore and learn, which can inspire and motivate fellow members.

Also I can provide 15% off for my Adobe products :)

Tell me a bit about yourself:

I have been on hackforums since 2011, been here in the era where the forum was really active and blackhat stuff was still allowed, since then I've been laid back browsing the forum now and then.

What are you passionate about?

Enjoying life, and fun times.

What are you good at?

Good at fixing problems.

What are some hobbies of yours

To work out, play games, and enjoy life in general.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group?

I'll be a good addition to the group, and it will be the first group I've been in on hackforums.

Would you say that other people would call you an "asshole" or "rude"? (answer seriously pls)

Depends on the situation, if the person deserves it it could be, but not really an asshole after all.

Tell me a bit about yourself:

I'm 27 years old, I used to live in the United States but now I am in Egypt. I like traveling, playing games, & making money online. I hate the traditional 9-5 as I skipped college and went straight into the work force. (I finished college now though, after I came to Egypt).

What are you passionate about?

These days I am passionate about growing my online passive income streams. I am always working on making more money online, that I sometimes forget to sleep.

What are you good at?

I have a background in programming/cyber security, and I majored in Financial Economics. I also have a skill to making money from nothing (started out IRL with dime bags to legit online bags).

What are some hobbies of yours (no, smoking weed is not a hobby but you can put it anyways)

I am the Community Manager of a Runescape Private Server (a top 3 private server).
Smoking weed is a social hobby that I do almost every hour of the day, and sometimes my day starts, continues, & ends with joints.
I used to DJ and shit but haven't in a while, used to really enjoy this.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group?

Well apart from knowledge/expertise in a variety of subjects, I am just hoping to help progress the group further in anyway I can assist.

Would you say that other people would call you an "asshole" or "rude"? (answer seriously pls)

Currently, we're only doing buy-ins for the Olympians.

If you'd like to join profit (my other group) that's a 1000 bytes fee.

If you'd like to buy-into olympians, you'd also get a free invite to Profit.

Tell me a bit about yourself: I'm a strong-willed entrepreneur who is looking to be innovative by any means possible.

What are you passionate about?: Right now I'm passionate about entrepreneurship. I've recently had a kid and I'm looking for methods to make passive incomes to be able to be financially secure and spend more time with my family.

What are you good at? I'm good at innovating and project management. Right now I am a PM for one of the largest growing corps in the US.

What are some hobbies of yours (no, smoking weed is not a hobby but you can put it anyways): A huge hobby of mine right now is working on my cars and just being an entrepreneur.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group?: I can provide a wide range of knowledge on random topics. I've worked on everything from SMM to marketing sales.

Would you say that other people would call you an "asshole" or "rude"? (answer seriously pls): No, I haven't been told I'm rude in any way from what I can remember. I don't find there's any reason to be mean to other people. Each person is on their own knowledge level and progresses at different rates.

Tell me a bit about yourself: I am 2 years sober from alcohol and cocaine. I have been in this field of cyber security a long time. I enjoy playing video games, basketball, baseball, and watching movies. I dont go out much these days like I used to. Its hard to connect with people my age if you dont drink. So I spend a lot of time at home now and research and code.

What are you passionate about? I am very passionate about my work. I work with people who are in recovery and people with IDD. Its very rewarding and It makes me feel like I am able to help someone at the end of the day. That is very important to me.

What are you good at? I have many skills from Botnets-Coding. I am very proficient with Python. I also enjoy webdesign and do some of that on the side as well. Coding is fun for me. Getting to see my work come to life is great.

What are some hobbies of yours (no, smoking weed is not a hobby but you can put it anyways) I play a lot of video games, mostly FPS games. Im a competitive person at heart and enjoy the competition. I also do a lot of research on trending malware. I dont play basketball as much, as I probably should.

What can you provide / what benefit are you to the group? My coding and overall knowledge that has to do with overall cyber security.
