I'm happy to help you redeem your Amazon gift card to your account with TeamViewer or help you create new account and avoid suspension and order cancelation.

Does this mean that there are risks involved? Ie suspension, cancellation with all the above stores?

No, just amazon. It's fairly common for amazon to suspend an account and ask for billing information for any purchases made with amazon gift card balance.

After testing I have found the best ways to avoid all of that easily with 100% success rate.

Hit me up.

They're from old website data base. I have a huge list of gift cards list, I keep checking their balance and find the ones that people didn't use (most likely forgot about).

Are the amazon gift cards bought from a physical company store (authorized reseller)? Or are they all e-gift card codes?

All the cards are e-gift cards.

Justonthis is quite helpful in assisting on a problem I ran into when redeeming a gift card at a later date. He went above and beyond in this, so kudos to him.
