User wasted my time after placing an order and then giving me the run around with payment, finally blocking me.

Client is being charged a $100 fee for my time spent and once that payment has been made, or once the contract terms are upheld, I'd consider this dispute resolved.

Thank you!

Why didn't you say why I blocked you? Where's my proof edits for my essays? You did zero work for me? You didn't start any work at all. So time spent for what? 10 mins worth of telegram chats trying to make a deal?

Told you I could pay instantly through multiple payments methods and I said you're going to have to wait if you want BTC and can even pay $200 downpayment and $50 right before the essay is completed but you declined.

Because the crypto was taking so long you said there's going to be a decrease in quality so I declined your service, you told me to "You can go to zserity lol. You deserve his outsourced quality work hahahaha"

No where in contract terms did you say there is a $100 fee for chatting to you, you didn't start any work for me. So again this dispute is for what?

It took you from April 4 to 7 to finally get to the point of understanding how to pay me for the work you were actively drafting as you were talking to me and changing, twice. I just want my time's payment and get you a good quality work that I don't want to publicly talk about but I know I can do the work as I quoted, quality and quantity.

So the solution to the dispute of the contract amount would be if I just sent you the tasks to show that they were done and that's why payment was expected?

Let me know, thanks!

Next time spend a minute to read the thread and the post, OP switched the terms after the contract was made, didn't do any work, I didn't pay.

He says to me my quality will decrease AFTER the contract is made. So I did not want his service anymore.

For new members be careful entering contracts because apparently the seller can edit their terms anytime and you are FORCED to give in to the extortion to keep your HF account. Unfortunate.

Literally asked you in my last post here that tell me how to resolve this dispute. You ignored it yet kept using HF; I think that's why you got closed.

I said quality will drop since we had less time on hand, like by days, which was due to your back and forth, not my problem, yet I still wanted to help you.

I had the essays ready moment you sent me the final drafts of your essays, which is why I kept asking for the payment and you kept delaying me by showing me how it's so hard for you to understand how to buy crypto.

Goodluck!

How to resolve what dispute? What are you even disputing? You didn't even open my drafts Back and fourth is because you wanted it in CRYPTO and I said I could send it instantly in any other payment method, I said you would have to wait.

"I had the essays ready moment you sent me the final drafts "

You said send me $200 and I'll get started, you said you didn't even open the drafts so.

So members on HF aren't allowed to back out of a deal if nothing has been done on either side?
You're trying to charge me $100 just some chatting on telegram
You didn't even open my requirements or drafts.
