Thread: Someone to code a "simi-automated" shop \(website pref\)

ZeLizzard - April 14, 2023, 4:26 am

I am currently looking for someone to code/design a site/shop for the services I offer. The reason for it needing to be simi-afk is down to us needing to purchase customized server(s) for every customer and manually install needed programs/updates the main focus/service to be sold will be <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6157050> and others that are similar.

Transactions would go: Custom chooses and pays for selected service -> 2-48h is the timeframe of host so we just use that til servers are ready -> have a way to fill an empty spot where info is shown to them or upload the info with the same result. (a few minor things but would rather talk to coder)

a few features that would be nice:
ability to register anonymously
a way to link to autopayment via crypto
a sub timer somewhere,
renew/add extra button
prob a few other minor things im not thinking of.

diff payments available:
full payment - You are only here to do the job.
part payment + % of profit for an agreed upon amount or time.
% of profit for the as long as you are with us & updating the site as needed.

feel free to toss me a pm
