Thread: Hackbar Mozilla Cyberfox browser \(free browser tool for sql\)

xeteor - April 14, 2023, 7:43 pm

I'm going to share the hackbar add-ons that are available on Mozilla Firefox. Actually, Firefox itself has long discontinued this add-on since version 52 in 2018. As an alternative, there's Cyber Fox, which is a clone of Mozilla Firefox itself. The display and features are still the same. Maybe this browser is useful for people who like the underground.

This add-on is quite useful not only for performing SQL Injection attacks. There are quite a lot of features, including additional features that are most often used by hackers. Tamper Data, No Redirect, Admin Finder, On/Off Javascript, and auto SQL feature.

Link inside the attachment (i cant send link or dm me for link?)

- 1.Download files and Install Cyber Fox once the download is complete, then open it.
- 2.Click on the three-line icon (hamburger) in the upper right corner, then select Add-ons.

3. Then click on the gear or settings icon in the upper right corner, and select Install Add-ons From file...

4. Select the hackbar add-on, a pop-up will appear in the upper left corner, then select Install.

5. After you click Install, another pop-up window will appear asking to Restart, then click Restart.
- 6.Wait for a moment until Cyber Fox reopens with the hackbar display, and the process is complete.
