Thread: If I got blocked, and create a new Insta account on the website, will I be blocked?

So yeah, if someone blocks me on Instagram, and I create a new account using the same email, will I still be blocked?

If so, how to bypass this? Thanks!

If they select the top, you're out of luck.
If they select the bottom you're fine.

Most people will skip over reading and just select block. (the top one)

I'm willing to bet $100 you are blocked on even new accounts.

If you want to circumnavigate this you will need

- 1: New email
- 2: New device (pc login with vpn most likely or a separate phone)
- 3: New credentials not associated with any previous ones

Make your new account, go buy a few fake followers and post a couple pics, add a pfp and follow the account again. Wala. Simple as.

I figured, thanks.

And let's say I sign up with a new IP, but then browse later on at home with the same IP, will they then also flag and block me? Or they only check for blocking at sign up?

Also, if I in past had LinkedIn or FB linked to my blocked IG (and not anymore) and now link this new acc to it, then will they block me as well?

how do you think computers work?

What I think doesn't matter, I want to know.
