Omniscient - May 2, 2023, 11:12 am

And it's DemonAsylum for the win by getting to level 86. He is the first to be awarded the Molten Sword of Hackúman .

I am resetting the Hackuman game now. Step up and don't let DemonAsylum win again.

God damn that looks like an insane award, congrats Demon.

DemonAsylum - May 2, 2023, 11:22 am

Thanks Omniscient It was a great first season and I'm looking forward to hopefully reaching higher levels and achieving more kills in season 2.

To everyone that I killed in season 1, GGs. To everyone that participates in season 2, best of luck!

Here are my end of season 1 stats for anyone interested.

I think I speak for everyone when I say this came as no surprise, but i'm still happy for you man. You put in a ton of effort and the award looks very nice. Here is hoping we can keep you down in season 2.

Yeah I imagine there are a good amount of people, maybe even more than not, that won't be surprised to see I got 1st ? I'm a HUM nerd, what can I say ?

Thank you though and it feels great having this new award to represent everything that I put towards the game for season 1.

Good work DemonAsylum , well deserved with how many Bytes you spend on the lotteries alone!

That Molten Sword award looks really good with your new Award Whore award, colors match and whatnot. ?

Thanks cooli! I definitely do spend a lot of bytes on even just lottos alone ? but I'm happy to do it. I honestly don't NEED all of the eggs that I go for, but I do try to use all of them to the best of my ability in one way or another. In many cases I just like being able to provide some level of extra support to those that actively post on here, get lucky with eggs from that, and that choose to post them in lottos. It may not always be "a lot" that I give since of course they're only worth so much to any of us and there may not be competition sometimes, but I'm always putting something towards them and that's better than nothing obviously?

I truly didn't even notice until you said something. I imagine I would have since with these couple recent new awards I was thinking of doing some rearranging anyway, but after you mentioned it and given just how well they do go together, I had to instantly put them next to one another ?

Lol can't blame ya brotha

I'm super picky about my award layout, granted I've been slacking lately with the new awards that I've got but the default layout of them doesn't look too bad actually (the last 2 rows).

Yeah I was gonna say, what you have now doesn't even look bad lol. I know people like to order their awards in different ways or based on different things, but for sure what you have it as now is decent imo. I can see how you may want to and could move some things around and make it a bit "better" like with the hearts you got most recently, but outside of that, pretty solid. Again though it's literally just preference haha. I'll mess with mine again at some point in the near future as well. Just gotta figure out what direction exactly I want to go with how they're laid out.

Oh yeah 100% all preference.

I remember sometimes when Zeus would want my help with his awards layout I would lose my mind because he'd want to do a couple one way, and I'd want it another way lol. In the end though he had a pretty nice layout when he still had all his old awards.

Lmaooo yeah I can see how that would be. Maybe when I decide to make some changes I'll ask for some suggestions from others. I don't have a TON to work with I feel like or at least that I can do anything too cool/crazy with, but surely there is enough there for me to do something decent looking at least lol.

True and I shall enjoy being the only one with such until there is a new season winner ?

Unfortunately what I do NOT have is the Independence (Freagle) Egg award that was able to be bought for a bit in July of 2020 I believe it was. I know it doesn't fall into the category you mentioned, but it is still HUM related. I asked Omni about buying it, even if he gave it to me in a form that can't be hatched or watched me immediately kill off the freagle from it so it's not an advantage to me in the game, but he didn't seem open to it unfortunately ? Hopefully that changes at some point. I'd love to be able to have that as well.

Oh shit, I just realized you didn't have the 4th of July egg! That's one I think I just assumed you had seeing it was a donation award lol.

It's actually one of my favorite awards cause of 'Murica lol. I'll probably never hatch mine either, that way my award description stays the same OG description rather than changing to "(used)" at the end if you do hatch it.

I don't think I was back active on HF again at that time so I didn't end up getting it ? Being so into HUM and for so long now though has me regretting not having been able to get that award more than like any other ?

Really hoping Omni will work something out with me in the future so I can get it. I'll take it as the "used" version or I'll hatch it and let it be watched as I kill it right after myself. The HUM is of no interest to me. I just want the damn award ?

Not really sure we'd see that kind of thing happen and if we did it would be a few more seasons out after we likely see some other winners. Reason being is the game is dominated by the crew that I run with and there are multiple people in there that have done a lot, been leaders, etc that are deserving of being a season winner. With that, they will likely be provided an opportunity by the rest of us in the crew to take that top spot for a season and then the same would happen for a new person the following season. Obviously if it's just us at the top come the end of a season, we're not all going to go at each other, try to snake one another, etc. We're instead going to come to a mutual agreement about who is deserving of being the winner.

As for some new HUM though, there are already 2 that have been created as well as some new egg designs. Even if the new eggs don't get utilized at all, one of those 2 new HUM I imagine could be implemented at any time and so hopefully one of them at least does as Omni previously mentioned would happen for season 2. To be fair, I don't believe he said it would necessarily be at the start of the season and the season of course runs for 3 months so we'll see what happens.

Thanks Eran! As for Drip, I don't recall him ever having a HUM ahead of the rest this season. BlackRose did for a while early on and then towards the back of the season, those of us in the picture gradually started working our way up. Take down The Plug crew Today!

Real talk, though. Has there ever been a solo player who won Hackuman vs crews?

Nope, it's been the same members at the top of the list for as long as I can remember. It takes time and money (bytes) to get there, and then when you get there your HUM gets gangbanged by everyone in the crew. Not worth the effort IMHO unless you have a decent corner of the bytes market which many of them have, along with a crew who's active in the game. Pay-to-Win is a factor here considering you need to get most of your eggs through the lotto.

Fucked. If anyone's tryna actually use their crew to play hackuman - lmk let's take down the plug this season

Basically this, been saying the same for a while now.

I'd be so down to use my crew for HUM, it's a Syndicate as well so that's 10 more active HUM players right there alone with only one added crew to the player-base.

It would all depend on interest and who's actually planning on playing the full season and not stop just because their HUM got killed.

Shoot, let's do it. If there's anyone else who wants to take down The Plug, maybe we can make hackuman great again

Do you also own a crew or just the group?

That could honestly be useful in terms of a setting for the HUM players since you have 2 extra sf's in Olympians.

Could make one dedicated to CooliCrew and the players. That way we can keep it all on-site rather than on Discord.

DashPHP - May 4, 2023, 11:25 am

Well done Demon! What an amazing Award.

Maybe. Having a SF dedicated to HUM could be interesting, but don't crews already have their own chats for that?

Nope, there's no official onsite crew chats unfortunately, that's only for groups.

You can see all the ones you're in if you click on the other tab in the Convo messages list.

Currently on the HUM page. Once I click the "Crew" tab, it shows "Crew Messages"

Oh shit! I've never seen this before lol. Granted I never got into HUM before as well so that'd probably explain why.

That's just a chatbox though, and I'm not sure if crew members are able to send messages too? Is it owners only or?

Edit: apparently its not the first award issued lolThanks and yeah Lavish pulled a work smarter not harder and got it from Omni with the superbowl bet thing earlier this year. Gotta tip him for it ?I don't mind being second behind him though as everyone knows I was the first to actually earn it and through the game as intended ?

Thanks very much Sox and I suppose we shall see! I considered slowing down a bit for this season now that I won the first, with the most kills, and without getting killed at all myself, but eh, it's easier said than done given how much I love this shit ?
