Hello, I am interested in "massing email". Do you monitor smtp traffic and automatically deactivate port 25? Some providers say "port 25 is open" but automatically deactivates port 25 through the monitor...

Also, how do you handle "abuse reports"?

Port 25 is fully open on all servers. As long as it's offshore abuse is ignored.

So what happens if the FBI requests info? Are you logging anything? Payments/ IPS? connections?
Are servers encrypted?

Stunner - July 30, 2023, 11:32 am

Our servers don't hold any logging from our end, DC holds very minimal logging. it's down to you to secure your server by default all servers are hardened.

Be careful selecting server locations you will pick somewhere in the netherlands and they will auto place your server somewhere in the UK and filter you out and not give support/refund

My VPS is down for some reason and Ticket Support/Chat Support are extra slow. I upgraded my VPS with BTC to Plan 2 but no upgrade had taken place after confirmations like i was told would be the case by chat box support.

Good Servers and Prices i guess but id like to get this sorted.
