Howdy!

What do you think Omniscient's most common private messages, especially from new registered members?

Let me guess....

"This member scammed me"

"this member hacked me"

"this member d0xed me"

"this member key-logged me"

"account access issues"

"membership did not reflect after payment"

Tech me how to hack daddy. something lame along these lines.

Yin Yang - May 6, 2023, 10:13 pm

Probably "This member scammed me," especially on discord

Literally none because it's now effectively impossible to send convos or PMs without upgrading. There is a 25 posts requirement, but that is only for PMs, and let's be honest no new member who's trying to PM omni is gonna last 25 posts.

Honestly, it wouldn't surprise me if it were all of them.

Probably why the minimum requirements implemented.

I think about being scammed by someone is the most popular message he gets.

My wife cheated on me, can you hack her email so i can use the evidence in court?

Laughing Man - May 7, 2023, 5:46 pm

I mean I'm sure he gets a wide variety of stupid messages, I'm sure some of them he laughs at non-stop until he replies that sucks, or bans someone.

"I can't log in while I'm on my VPN, pls help"

Laughing Man - May 7, 2023, 7:50 pm

"How do I commit this crime... Insert Crime Here... Thanks. "

I beg to differ, site has been around for over a decade and he only decided to make things stricter as of 2023. It's whatever though.

That does make sense after all. Can imagine the amount of Time being spent handling with these types of messages.

pms - May 8, 2023, 3:18 pm

Lot of arse-licking is my guess, been one myself :)

Smexy - May 8, 2023, 3:45 pm

Probably Nachfolger asking him to get his mentor back or if he can become staff.

xDRISSx - May 8, 2023, 4:57 pm

new user need 25 posts to pm

Invincible Light - May 8, 2023, 7:55 pm

Yeah basically a lot of complaining, arselicking & general weirdness

I sent him a PM a couple of years back just asking how he was & we had a short but nice exchange of pleasantries, coming on here for me is like visiting an old home & it's nice to talk to members I remember from being young :)

HF was a lot crazier when I first joined in 2011, I think it's calmed down a LOT now, which is good

Edit: I just remembered when everyone would chase "rep" i can't remember when it got changed to popularity but it was so funny everyone would be like rep me bro ????
