Thread: Scammer Payback's YouTube Channel uses Hackforums. Video in thread.

Was watching his newest video of Scammer Payback today and when they were on the scammers computer, they pasted and briefly mentioned the Hackforums link. Skip to 22:20 in the video and you'll see it shortly after. Very short but thought it was interesting to share.

Exact moment is at 22:29.

I went to 22:20 and didn't see anything?

It's specifically at 22:30 in the OpenWebPage dialog box. In case anyone was wondering.

It's shortly after it. Keep watching it for like 10 seconds.

What's hilarious is I watched this last night and I heard them say "They're on their Hacking Forums" and immediately checked lmao

Also, it was the "hacker" on Scammer Payback who had that URL in his clipboard. It wasn't the scammer, the Scammer Payback guys tried pasting in a URL into their RAT to remotely open a web-page and he had a HackForums URL in his clipboard instead of the YouTube Short Oh? So Scammer Paybacks team uses Hackforums?

So I'll change the info on thread then. Thank you.

At least one of them does, I wouldn't doubt it. They're tech-savvy enough to be putting malware on the scammer's computer so it wouldn't be too far-fetched to assume they probably get their tools from here too to see an eye doctor. but I wouldn't be surprised if he does use HF. This forum is older than dirt and crawling with scammers. They would do anything for $10 - $20. That's like winning the lottery in some countries.

Haha that is pretty interesting. Nice one for pointing it out.

I said it the OP to "skip to 22:20 and you'll see it SHORTLY AFTER".

Wow op, I also follow that YouTube channel a lot, I find it funny to see the reactions of these poor idiots who are exposed. It's not surprising after all, this forum is one of the most active around, however finding yourself in a video of one of the people you follow naming one of the places where you spend the most of your time is exciting.

The guy that was talking in the video saying get rid of HFs is a YouTuber called Nanobaiter. He's super active in the scambaiter community and helps a ton of baiters out with RATs and other tools. If you like watching scambaiting you should check out his channel.
