Thread: Is discord E-whoring worth getting into?

TheOneButWhichOne - May 13, 2023, 6:42 am

I'm considering selling content on discord for money, Is this saturated or can I still make money of this

The only form of ewhoring that is actually saturated in my opinion is Kik.

You'll find success if you actually try.

Ignore saturation. This isn't 2003 when no one other than strippers, pornstars and whores sold content.

Now it's strippers, pornstars, whores, college students, teachers, cops, etc. Everyone is selling on every platform.

Pick a lane, specialize in it until you're great and just get out there and sell. Every month or so, I open up my old Kik and twitter accounts and make some sales just to prove to myself that I can still do it.

You actually get sales using Kik?

I thought it had been absolutely nuked at this point. Very good job if so.

Kik is probably the easiest because everyone else is ignoring it. Plus the two accounts I have left are over 5 years old so they look more legit than most. If you offer the right things, it's impossible to not get sales.

Discord is great if you know subs where rich people are

You can easily make more than 5k a month by the media presence you have.

I tried discord but only made a little so far, probably cause I'm not trying hard enough.

kys soph - June 4, 2023, 8:10 pm

You could, but I doubt you'd make much unless you really try & spend lots of time on it. Discord has more younger people, like college students who'll probably be stingy with their money.
