? Pink LSZ Mixtape - Hackforums Official.

All I ask in listening to this art, is that you consider its place in time, consider what you like, and perhaps even going a little further in showing support.

The mixtape is available for pre-save, pre-order, and pre-purchase (or purchase, depending on when you're tapping in)

Sharing the music could help me make better music with my free time ?

All 9 tracks were made last night, within a 12 hour studio trip.

No offense, but the album cover gave me different expectations. The albums cool though. Nice work.

Note how this man is no longer in Pink LSZ - But still publicly released this body of garbage.

It has nothing to do with the group.

I've never been in Pink LSZ, but this gave me a true feel of the group.

Thanks for sharing.

Yeah I figured. I can understand the name of the mixtape, but passing it off as official is weak.

You don't know the full truth, unfortunately.

I was a member of the little club for a matter of 24 hours, asked (jokingly) to make a mixtape, made one, and then exiled from the group for what I can only describe as teenage drama ?

It was technically official when I released it.
