Thread: Bytes Bonus Days \(2x\)

Omniscient - May 31, 2023, 12:49 pm

Let's kick off the summer.

Until GWM (Good Will Monday, June 5th) we will be in Bytes Bonus Days. You will earn twice the normal amount of Bytes for posting activity.

Current base is 20 per thread, 2 per reply, and 1 for every member reply to your thread.

If you're in L33t group you earn 1.5x the base. If you're in Ub3r you earn 2x the base.

Enjoy and thanks.

Deany - May 31, 2023, 12:51 pm

Sounds good, thanks for doing this

Ombra - May 31, 2023, 12:52 pm

Amazing! Does it also apply to the daily check-in thread?

Ombra - May 31, 2023, 12:57 pm

(May 31, 2023 12:55 PM)-Scrub Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) That is also a great question.

I don't think it is considered as "posting activity" but bytes are awarded for making a post, so it was worth asking.

I believe he meant suffers in the sense of his SF not being able to provide bytes anymore as I know he's aware of that recent change.

Either way, love to see a bytes boost event and will definitely be doing some more posting. Thanks for hosting this ?

Did not expect it would apply, that's a nice surprise.

So far not really. Even double bytes bonus doesn't seem to really inspire people to post. I think the main people who sit on HF all day are in Convo.

Absolutely. I'm excited to see some big things in the works for the forum. Hopefully, we can drive this into meaningful change and an uptrend in activity.

Skorp - June 2, 2023, 11:13 am

Nice :) hopefully it is a more active weekend on here and would be interesting if the multiplier was set at 3x or maybe even 4x for a day. Curiosity really, but I assume members would post more if they received more in return (bytes)... in general at least.

I feel like I'm missing something -- is GWM an established HF holiday I hadn't heard of, or something more general? June is as good a time as any other, but I don't understand what we're commemorating.

Good Will Monday became an official HF holiday back in 2011. The goal is to stop the negativity and bring good vibes to the community. You can check out the thread that was created almost 12 years ago on it here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=466320>

Thanks for the reference, I'll check it out. That's a really sweet idea ? especially in a demographic with such diversity, it's nice to focus on the ways we're brought together rather than set apart.
