?{ RadioActive Hack }? - June 2, 2023, 3:21 am

Nothing too deep, just post what celebrities you think are fine as fuck.

I've always had a thing for Emma Stone, I know she is not physically the hottest. She is really funny and I find that attractive in a girl.

I have to mention Alexandra Daddario, she is just crazy hot. Also, I think Aubrey Paza is up there too, I think physically she is pretty hot, but the whole weird, sarcastic vibe of her really does it for me.

Maddison Beer, Ariana Grande, Bella Hadid, Hailee Steinfeld.

My list can just go on and on.

I would say Kaley Cuoco (Penny) from Big Bang Theory or, I wouldn't say Celebrity but Jessica Nigri.

DashPHP - June 2, 2023, 4:20 am

I used to have celebrity crushes when I was a lil younger, but been so busy these days that I can't seem to think of one.

I was in love with Jessica Nigri until someone broke the dream and told me she had fake tits. Idk why I thought they where real, as they obviously aren't.

Fake tits are just not my thing. If you find a photo of her at 18 before surgery she is even hotter.

I had the maddest crush on her as a teen. She was perfection in my eyes. I'm not sure how she looks now, but I imagine she has aged well. She seems to be the only Disney teen to escape not fucked up.

Since the Harry Potter I've had a crush on Emma Watson ? and I also find Ariana Grande so hot.

Victoria Justice. I've always had a thing for her. Met her once when I was 17 and I was so awkward around her but she was super nice.

Another celebrity crush would be Anna Nystrom. She's a model from Sweden I think and holy hell she's fine.

My definitely crush since day one is Rihanna , she is like an ? angel.

ReoRomerez - June 2, 2023, 10:56 am

Jenna Ortega is pretty fly. she is in my age Range so works out.

Selena Gomez maybe.. She doesn't have the whole Diva vibe.

If you grew up with it probably the Icarly/ Victorious cast and such.

Besides that i don't really know any celebs atm, don't really keep up with any of that stuff.

Victorious, what a show that was.

Piplup - June 2, 2023, 1:11 pm

Alexandra Daddario and Kaya Scodelario for the same big, blue reasons. Also Jennifer Lawrence and Hannah Fry (mathematician semi-celebrity) because they just seem so "real", like they're actual people whose jobs just happen to put them in the center of media, rather than people whose lives are making media.

Chroem - June 2, 2023, 1:15 pm

Alexandra Daddario. The scene from True Detective.

Anna Kendrick, I forgot about her. She is right up there for me. I have a thing for red heads that takes them to the next level. She is already next level.

Miley Cyrus, I guess I was kinda into her when I was a teen. When she had that long sexy hair. Thats from the opinion of my teen self. I'm way too old to comment on her when she had long hair. For the most part, since she cut her hair, she just hasn't been my thing. I like her and find her pretty interesting and would really enjoy hanging out with her, but I don't find her physically that attractive.

When I say crush for me it's more than just sexual attraction. I like Miley's tomboy personality.

Snubs.

She use to date Darren back in the day. She is pretty cute. Getting a bit older and still looking great, but back then she was so out of his lead, I was beyond surprised when I found out they use to date.

No one at the moment. I had a crush on Jennifer Lawrence at one point in time. I even got a Hunger Games tattoo to cement it. Not really a fan of hers anymore. lol But I do love the Hunger Game movies and books still.

That's a good one! And she's a nice person, especially for a celebrity. Always nice to see child stars make it into adulthood without the Hollywood trauma.

I mean.... it's kind of obvious right?
