Thread: Looking for an investment for a crypto project \(project ready to launch\)

Hey!

Okay. So basically. At the moment I am building a meme coin, and yes I know you properly have heard about this market, and how everybody are trying to make the next "Pepe" coin or doge coin or shiba. So many are making Shiba Red, Blue Shiba. Pepe Blue, Pepe White, Pepelon, Elon Pepe. Im tired of this trend. I want this market of meme coins to become more serious, and more effort put into this market and actually create longevity projects that are taken seriously.

So here I have linked up with a family member of mine who works as a senior designer, who have drawn our own meme character based on Shrek. The whole website/twitter is drawn and designed by her. I have developed the website. I am a web2 and web3 developer with over 10 years in the crypto world. So I know the ups and downs, and how everything has happened as it is.

In the meme world i've been researching for the last 4-5 weeks nonstop (it's meme coin season at the moment, so this sort of project can really have success currently.) the reason for this is pepe has caused this meme season and everybody is trying to find the next pepe.. 90% of the projects coming out are just for having a succesful presale and then leaving the project to die. I don't wanna do this. I want to create longevity.

So my other partner (family member) are building pictures/graphics for each tweet that has something to do with the tweet, to make the socials engaging and what its all about MEMES. For future if this turns out to be a huge huge success and we can build upon it, I wanna carry this further with new tools and apps (that I can create) which will be staking apps, swap apps and also turn it eventually down at the end of the line into a DAO where we will breed a new token for the DAO. At the end of the day thats whats crypto is all about. Decentralization.

I have gotten into contact with marketing on socials (mostly twitter since twitter basically is what we call "Crypto Twitter"), and I have gotten into some good contacts gotten some VERY good deals for instance a crypto guy with 300k who will make giveaway posts for getting followers and our telegram channel active. I've also gotten package deals with a firm who will launch our product on their website that gets 80k visitors daily and we will be on top banner and when presale happens we will be in the corner of their website when scrolling (stays there) for a day. I also have with a crypto influencer with 350k and 158k youtube subscribers but I am still a little unsure about him.

The funding we need to get this carried out would be at about 1k total. Of course more is better, but bare minimum we would be looking at 1k.

For the funding we could talk about having an allocation of tokens or being onboard the project potentially. It's important we share the same values and thought process.

Website is done. Domain bought. Contract for the token is done and live. Audit done. Only funding for the marketing is needed.

Please DM me if this has any interest.

How do you plan to obtain this "longevity" with a shitcoin?

It basically has no use, the whole trend died in 2021 imho so I don't see what makes your coin special than the other 100 shitcoins that come out everyday, or to phrase it better, what makes it worth investing even 1$ into.

As stated. If success happens then you can build upon that with new products, new dapps. Turning it into a DAO etc.

There are examples of success that has longevity to it such as: Floki, Pepe, Doge, Shiba etc.

With that said short term there of course are a higher chance of success, but my aim is to take it all the way to phase 3 and build upon it. I feel the "bricks" are in place and with the great marketing deals etc i have, and the idea behind it compared to the 95% who is all just looking for a succesful presale and then abandon. Then I feel there is a good chance to be taken here.

Still searching. It's something that has to go live asap, also because the market currently is hot.
