I know it's unlikely but i heard of a few methods during the years.

Scams. Just make a new account.

The only working method is to go work for Valve and remove it yourself and hope none of the other employees find out that you're cheating the system.

I hope that in the future when you look back at these posts warning you of the scams, when you do end up getting scammed for 1k, that you realize that you were an idiot for trusting that random HF member who PM'd you saying he/she could do it.

Those are just poor scam attempts.

Unless you are gaben's son and have access to his devices. Very unlikely

Very unlikely to happen. Just don't keep anything valuable on your account you also cheat on. With that kind of money offered you should of considered a spare account + copy of whatever game you were playing. If someone claims they can help you ban another low level freebie account and have someone unban it before you payout something like this (and use a trusted middle man).

I see it stated over and over again, but let me help out by reiterating.

DO NOT TRUST ANYONE WHO SAYS THEY CAN DO THIS FOR YOU. IT'S A SCAM. GUARANTEED.

Unless you are a Valve employee of the highest ranks that aint happening, it will never happen actually, do not believe anyone who says they can do this they are just going to take your money and block you.

Good thing you opened this thread OP before spending money somewhere else for something that doesn't exist. I hope the warnings are clear here. No matter who PMs or contacts you in regards to this consider it a scam attempt if they claim that they have it. It's I M P O S S I B L E.

You have heard wrong. You aren't getting un-banned.

Piplup - June 6, 2023, 1:16 pm

The only way you undo a VAC ban is via social engineering someone high-level at Valve. That's never worth the effort -- better to just make a new account.

This isn't going to happen. Nobody working for valve is going to risk getting fired for some shmuck that probably deserved to get banned.

Of course -- but it's at least theoretically possible. And it'd be a hell of an entertaining follow-up thread ?

banonkiel - June 6, 2023, 4:22 pm

There was a Reddit thread of someone who got VAC banned then managed to get unbanned.

but in his case, he was banned for no reason and eventually managed to reach an official company rep. and speak with them, have the incident investigated and finally got unbanned.

I doubt your ban was unfair so, It's very unlikely anyone will do this for you.

and even if a method exists, you need to ask yourself, what prevents someone who has such method from buying VAC-banned CSGO accounts (for example) that got thousands for dollars of skins, unban them then sell everything?

Xcz - June 6, 2023, 8:51 pm

hey op i can get you un-vac'd. what is your ssn, credit card #, full name, mailing address, date of birth, and login info? once you provide all of this i can begin the unban process.

It doesn't exist. Whatever you find online is either infected, scam or both.
