Can you shoot me a convo with more explanations? I'm not that much of a betting guy.
I'm more interested in the premium and premium++ differences in details
I would like more details on "everything is public"
What's that about banking?
Can it be used in all / EU betting websites, let's say randomly, Greek ones?
I might try the trial if I sort out things with my shitty bank.

Contracted and started

Honk87 - November 24, 2023, 11:59 am

The offer is legit and for people who are betting more often it is really a good thing, can recommend.

Autopilot is referred to the income raise .

It's referred for the bankroll management

You say "bank roll management" is autopilot yet in this comment you say that the individual manages the bankroll, I don't get it? Do you do parlays? What if I just want to stick with NFL games, do you give picks for only select games or? Is there a certain platform we have to use? Do you have a graph/chart of your earnings or something that shows the series of bets you've won say in the last month? What is the recommend "bankroll"? Say my bankroll is $1,000 and I follow your picks for 1 month, on average what will I end up with? What do you different than what I can find googling picks from gambling/sport experts? Thanks.
