Thread: Eggs For Posting Odds Increased

Omniscient - June 8, 2023, 10:21 am

As a result of closing down egg lotteries I have opted to increase the odds of earnings eggs though posting. You have a 10 chance of earning an emerald.

This is the exact odds of winning each egg currently...

Gold: 0.2%

Sapphire: 1.8%

Ruby: 3%

Emerald: 5%

So overall a 10% chance winning one of the eggs with each post. Make 10 posts in a day, likely you'll be getting an egg. My guess is that some of you will be earning 2-3 eggs a day very easily.

123 - June 8, 2023, 10:24 am

All these odds and still I won't be able to win Golden Egg ever.

Dread.Reaper - June 8, 2023, 10:27 am

If we cant auction these things off can we at least disable them or something, Think of all the poor Hackúman that will die from those who dont play!

They expire after a week. You don't need to disable them.

LOUD - June 8, 2023, 10:41 am

Awesome new addition! I will be hoping to get an egg every couple of days now.

DemonAsylum - June 8, 2023, 10:53 am

Great way to balance out the lotto change and also provide even more incentive for actively posting if someone wants to give the game a try or simply keep playing it. These changes should without a doubt make some more people feel it's worth trying the game out and interest them in doing so more than before.

Pioplup - June 8, 2023, 11:12 am

TIL golden eggs exist -- I do like the eggs being more of a closed economy, it makes it feel more "game"-y/fun.

Absolutely. Now the game feels less pay-to-win and will reward top posters with the eggs. The next HUM reset should be interesting with no egg lotteries.

Maybe now we can get extra eggs hard-boiled for a permanent award, or maybe allow you to convert them to bytes if you're not interested in playing HUM.

Cooligan - June 8, 2023, 12:00 pm

Now this is awesome to see.

Can't wait to see how many eggs I can earn in a single day. ?

100% and as it should be. Hackuman should just be an extra thing to do on the site and that is fueled solely by actively posting on the site, not how many bytes you have and are willing to throw at lottos for instance. The hard-boiled idea (which I think Omni liked if I remember correctly), I completely forgot about and hope gets introduced, especially now that the eggs have to be earned first.

As for a way to sell your eggs automatically for a set price to the game if you don't want them, I guess that's up to Omni. The main issues there are 1. The ranges for eggs have been all over the place in the past when it comes to lottos due to multiple variables and so I'm not sure how he'd come to a conclusion on what are fair prices for each of them and 2. Regardless of the prices, it could lead to people trying to basically abuse that ability of selling for X amount of guaranteed bytes by posting up a storm and of lower quality. Obviously the latter could be monitored and action could be taken against those people, but it would probably just be better and easier not to provide them a reason to do it in the first place.

Oh shit, congrats haha. Well, lucky if you have any interest in playing the game. Not so lucky if you normally would have just put it in lotto and since it means missing out on what would have no doubt been a good chunk of bytes.

Omniscient - June 8, 2023, 12:21 pm

I think Hard-Boiling eggs would be at a Bytes cost and based on egg rarity. For example hard-boiling a golden egg might cost 100k Bytes.

Lrrr - June 8, 2023, 12:24 pm

If lotto is closed, what if we could stack eggs? They would still expire after a week but stacking would allow us to feed our eggs to the hums of the same color for better stats

That is how it should be and I believe that's what was mentioned when it last got brought up. I don't think there was objection from anyone either as it makes sense of course. The bytes cost should be a decent little bit for even a green egg and as you get the higher rarity ones it should probably also jump up higher amounts.

Green - 10k

Red - 25k

Blue - 50k

Gold - 100k

That could be based on if you're set on having the gold egg cost 100k bytes to hard boil. Either way you could lower the other 3 of course, but considering it's giving you a permanent award and the going rate for bytes, 10k bytes to start ($24 worth if bought from me) is pretty standard versus buying an award off the site. Then the higher rarity eggs would basically just be a higher price tier of an award, again just like you can buy for money on the site now. They could be seen as sort of a comparison to the different heart / diamonds awards there are and that vary in price.

I support this suggestion. I think awards should continue to remain valuable and making hard boiled expensive would help keep the value of awards high

Sounds like you have some thinking to do and some decisions to make my friend. With the lotto change it will certainly bring a bit different strategy needing to be employed by those of us with a few HUM already or that we aren't immediately open to killing off anyway, but I quite like that.

Oh yeah maybe like the old days just strike and attack mode and made a new one when it's done and no use at all.

Well, I just hope we can get another spot maybe a 5th hum will be great so eggs would be much of use than have them spoil and gone eventually.

That and getting a better understanding of stats your HUM has or is capable of getting so that if you do need to consider killing one off, you can best gauge which is the one that makes the most sense and or provides the least loss/risk. Granted there are definitely other variables to consider when making such a decision as well. Maybe you have 2 HUM you know are too good or important to get rid of and then have a level 30-40 HUM for example that's decent, but you're pretty confident a new HUM in your 4th slot you have could be better if stacked. Do you kill off the 30-40 and bank on being able to stack the new HUM as well as it actually being better? Do you mind losing a HUM in that 30-40 range that could still be beneficial? Lots of stuff like that which can come into play and should no doubt be considered. I look forward to the extra layer of strategy and thinking the lotto change brings as well as alongside hopefully more competition.

The point of the eggs existing is solely for the sake of playing the game. It was cool having them as something you could put in lottos for a long time, but it makes the game too pay to win and in turn the playing field uneven as well as also discourages many from bothering to play. I understand how it was nice for people that didn't care to play being able to put them in the lotto for some bytes, but it's not like that's the purpose of the eggs. We have to look at the bigger picture which is the importance of the game as that's what the eggs are relevant to. Who knows though, maybe one day Omni will implement an option to sell the eggs to the game for a set amount of bytes based on the egg rarity. I feel like that isn't needed and could also be abused, but that's for him to gauge and decide on being necessary or worth it.

Good bait, I like it haha.

Really though it's a great change and that was the right call to make for the game. I'm very happy with it and am also confident it will make the game better as well as more appealing.

I wouldn't say it's anyone's game now, but it does certainly provide a better chance to other groups of people if they try to take a serious run at it. Whatever group of players is most consistently posting to get eggs, having good knowledge of the game, and employing the most/best strategy should be those that ultimately end up on top. That is exactly how it should be too. No lame P2W stuff like the lotto enabled.

I'm very much looking forward to seeing more players get involved and to take on the challenges that this new change introduces.

I think it was a few good weeks since my last egg from any post.

Sadly though the lotteries are closed, I do not play hum anymore atm

Freagles aren't guaranteed to be any better than other HUM out of blues and golds, only greens and reds. They don't seem to have the potential to be any better either, but rather share the same stat range.

Yeah not guaranteed but most of the time they were much more powerful compares to other hums.

I disagree. I've hatched a good handful of Freagles from blue eggs, most likely more than anyone given the amount of eggs I've obtained and hatched over the years, and there was no pattern of them most of the time being better than other HUM I was hatching out of blues. On the contrary in fact, I can only recall 2 freagles from blues that I got with actual solid stats and that I deemed worth keeping. All HUM from blue eggs seem to have the same potential in terms of stat range and no 1 HUM out of them all seems to provide better stats more often than the rest. It's just a toss up. Yes, when it comes to green and red eggs, a Freagle is always better than the other HUM, but as soon as you get into the blue and gold egg territory, that is no longer a thing.

Now you need to grind hard and go for the golden egg, we must go and grind for it until we find one for our account.

You can never have it on the lottery anymore ?

I'm aware of the lottery status. I would have dropped way more bytes on that last gold, but I flipped most of my bytes straight to hell.

I'm still unsure if this is a good a bad thing for me personally in my attempt to hunt down the goon squad. For the game as a whole, I think it is a really positive move. Either way, it's good for my bytes.

LOUD got that egg. Demon has one and doom3 has one. Although doom seems to of lost interest a bit. I haven't seen him move for a while now. Either way, it's a dangerous field for me to do anything at the moment. I'm not sure what my plan is right now. I have pretty much been asleep for the last 3-4 days. I lost that blue hum because I slept through my alarm.

Somehow it gives you break on spending more bytes on the lottery but on the bad side you keep them losing on the convo on flip game ?

Better be with us on the grind for more eggs daily. If only I can share you some eggs I would love to for you to keep on playing the game and never give up.

You are almost on halfway of the HUM award and I guess if you continue your game you will eventually have it before the end of the 2nd season.
