This is really cool and unique..

Would it be possible to filter the email list? Let's say, those who interested in tech ?

We are only checking your lists. There is no sorting by category.

Ohhh... We have to provide the list, and you determine if it's legit or not... aha. I see.

Still great. Good to know.

Dear users, we have made a major upgrade to our service, globally revised the database processing service programs, and will connect all of these in coming days. Among the obvious upgrades to our service, there is a finishing validation of all database types, BIG, GI, Environments – and all of these are in real time, within a single session.

The service is now at the final stage of connecting the finishing database validation, which means that the database comparison is functioning normally, and of course discounts, discounts.

In the topic ?, there's a coupon for you to use, and the discount amounts to 50%.

After connecting all the finishing validation services, the coupon discount will grow less. All who use coupons to buy packages will have all the volumes fixed, and pricing won't affect them until the coupon is valid.

Simply put, by buying the largest possible validation volume now, you'll benefit financially in the future.

There are no time limits on the packages bought.

Dear users! We are pleased to inform you that we've fulfilled all the announced activities to finalize our project! And now, it has reached a whole other level, unparalleled in the market!

The "snapshot" concept, which is used for quick validation (the User databases are compared with ours), took on a new meaning after we introduced the "time to live" concept for e-mail addresses.

A new final validation module has been connected. This is an interactive module that sorts and finally validates the e-mail addresses in the "unknown" file after quickly comparing them with the (above-defined) snapshot:

1) We've added CORP validation and final validation. We've implemented a rather complex and non-obvious mechanism of verification, additional verification, and re-verification, as well as in-depth domain analysis. Here are the tasks we've successfully solved: "Spam trap" detection.

"Trigger" detection.

2) Media validation and final validation has also been added. Media are actually the same as CORPs, but containing from 1,000 to 1,000,000 domains. For this database, an algorithm combining the CORP, BIG, and SUPERBIGS validation algorithms works.

3) BIG and SUPERBIG final validation has been added. We've done our best to cover all domains that can at least somehow be handled with any of the known and our proprietary validation algorithms. We are constantly working to broaden this list and can assure you that almost all the domains are now covered.

To summarize all of the above, we offer you a unique e-mail address validation service that features impressive accuracy, speed, and coverage. And to date it's unparalleled in the market.

We are often contacted about the purchase of e-mail databases or hacking of individual e-mail addresses.

We do not sell databases because we value our reputation and respect the confidentiality of data uploaded by our customers.

We do not deal with password selection and hacking of e-mail addresses. The mechanisms of the service are built differently.
