Thread: HUM integration into slots

Just thought of maybe adding a golden egg or eggs in general to the slot machine.

Allows byte usage + gambling + another way to generate eggs other than by posting.

Golden egg could be at the top , rest of the eggs could be spread out in terms of the percentage you're able to get while posting

I.e .2% chance to get a golden egg while posting, maybe do the same odds for slots.

Or even increase to .5% or decrease to .1% of a chance. I definitely think this will allow people to spend bytes + gamble + lead to people playing slots to also play HUM potentially Incentives playing all the games HF has to offer. Especially if each one can connect to another game in some way or another.

I think slots play for something in Hack Game would be better.

Personally, i think any way you can connect games with each other would be great. Regardless of how it's done. Eventually all the games would be connected to each other & would be played in order to increase activity.

Out of HUM moves but want to earn eggs? Go to the slots or hack game or post for a chance to win eggs or (possibly) a chance to earn more moves in the day (maybe... 5? 10?)

I really like this idea.

Hell yeah. I've been playing both religiously and this would only increase my activity for both. lol

I like the idea of connecting things somehow in order to provide more interest, incentive, etc, but I don't feel slots and HUM fits together very well. As Omni mentioned, Hack Game might be a better option. Though I'd honestly prefer to just see some updates for the game itself first and foremost rather than it getting some kind of connection with another game is all. However, if it's sort of set in stone that the game wont be getting any updates/changes for a long time than fuck it, something like this is better than nothing and could for instance help in some way with what is currently a hell of a grind up to level 50 for the award lol.
